

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

John Fletcher Hurst.

BIOGRAPHIC.

“OLD DORSET,” on the Eastern Shore of Maryland, has among its sons of the soil no name more lustrous in achievement or more eminent in usefulness than that of Bishop John Fletcher Hurst. He was the only son of a sturdy and prosperous farmer, Elijah Hurst. His mother was Ann Catherine (Colston) Hurst. His grandfather, Samuel Hurst, was a soldier in the war of the Revolution. His parents were earnest and devout Methodists. The frame farm house near Salem, Dorchester County, Maryland, in which he was born, August 17, 1834, is still standing. This home of his infancy was exchanged when he was about four years old for the farm known as Piney Neck, later called Bonnie Brook, about five miles from Cambridge, on Hurst Creek, a branch of the Choptank. Here he spent his boyhood days and in a little schoolhouse nearby received his initiation into the world of letters. In the later forties he was a promising student in the Cambridge Academy and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church of that town on profession of faith. He showed a positive trend while in his early teens toward the study and acquisition of languages. One day his fondness for books led to his carrying a favorite volume under his arm when sent by his father to water the horses. He rode the leader to the trough and while the herd of six or eight were leisurely drinking he slipped off, seated himself on a block and in a trice was lost in the entrancing pages. The horses took care of themselves. His father finding the lad with the tell-tale book in his hand, exclaimed—“Well, John, it’s no use. You’ll never be a farmer; you may go to college.”

He entered Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pa., in 1850, graduated Bachelor of Arts in 1854, and received his Master’s degree in 1858. His Alma Mater conferred the Doctorate in Divinity in 1866, and Princeton University bestowed the same honor in 1896. Indiana Asbury University (De Pauw) and Dickinson College each gave him the Doctorate of Laws in 1877. His tastes for history and linguistics became more pronounced under the fostering care of able and discriminating teachers during his college course, and his conviction that he should prepare himself for the Christian ministry became a settled one, though involving an abandonment of the law, to which his friends and his own thought had for some time pointed him. After graduation he taught, first in a common school for a few months at Greensboro, Maryland, and then for nearly two years in the Hedding Literary Institute, which ran a brief career of about four years in Ashland, N. Y., among the Catskills. His department was Latin and Greek, with some occasional work in English and a few lectures. One of the lady teachers of this school was Miss Kate E. La Monte, in charge of the ornamental branches. In 1859 she became Mrs. Hurst. John Burroughs was one of his pupils in Ashland.

To equip himself both in body and mind more thoroughly for his life work, he spent a part of two years, 1856 and 1857, in Europe, dividing his time between attendance upon lectures at the Universities of Halle and Heidelberg, and making several journeys, some of them on foot, in Switzerland and other parts of the Continent. He returned to America in the autumn of 1857, and began preaching in January, 1858, as a supply "under the presiding elder" on the Carlisle circuit, then a part of the Baltimore Conference, with his headquarters at Mechanicsburg, Pa. In the following spring he joined the Newark Conference at its first session, and was assigned to Irvington, N. J., where he labored for one year. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Scott in 1860, and elder by Bishop Morris in 1862. His pastorates after the first were at Passaic; Elizabethport; Water Street, Elizabeth; and Trinity, on Staten Island; each for two years, though the last named was cut short by his acceptance in the autumn of 1866 of the professorship of theology in the school for German preachers at Bremen, Germany, later removed to Frankfort-on-the-Main under the name of the Martin Mission Institute.

In 1871, after five years of successful teaching and administration in the Fatherland, interspersed with travel through the principal countries of Europe, Egypt and Syria, he was summoned to the Chair of Church History in the Drew Theological Seminary, which he filled for nine years. In 1873 to his duties as professor were added the burdens and honors of the presidency of the same institution. Under his leadership the seminary grew steadily and, when its entire endowment was swept away as by a storm in a night, it was, through his eloquent pleadings in public and his untiring efforts in private, more than replaced before his election to the Episcopacy.

He was elected a bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church in May, 1880, and adorned that high office for twenty-three years by the consecration of his extensive learning, his tireless industry, his trained talents, and his careful and painstaking judgment to the interests of the Church and of Christian civilization. His official residence was at Des Moines from 1880 to 1884; at Buffalo from 1884 to 1888, and from 1888 to the time of his decease at Washington. His travels in the discharge of the functions of a general superintendent covered all the states of the Union, some of them many times over, Europe, India and Mexico. His last public service was his response to the addresses of welcome on the opening day of the third Ecumenical Methodist Conference in London in September, 1901. He was chosen in May, 1891, Chancellor of The American University, and served without compensation in that office until December, 1902, when failing health compelled him to resign. He is regarded as the founder as well as the first chancellor of this great educational enterprise at the capital of the nation. His decease occurred at Bethesda, Maryland, May 4, 1903.

LITERARY AND BIBLIOGRAPHIC.

Since his college days, through a half century of continuous and energetic activity among men and public affairs, his pen has been the busy and ready instrument of a marvelous literary fecundity and industry. His contributions to the periodical press alone in America and England number several hundred, and consist of literary articles, book-reviews, stories, comments on leading characters and issues, editorials, sketches of travel, and a very few verses. He translated Hagenbach's History of the Church in the Eighteenth and Nineteenth Centuries (1869); Van Osterzee's Apologetical Lectures on John's Gospel (1869); and Lange's Commentary on the Epistle to the Romans, with additions (1870). He edited, with Henry C. Whiting, Seneca's Moral Essays, with Notes (1877); with George R. Crooks, the Library of Biblical and Theological Literature, a series of volumes not yet completed (1879 ff.); and with six others the American Church History series, thirteen volumes (1892-1895).

He was an associate editor of Johnson's Cyclopædia, eight volumes (1892-1895). His own published books and pamphlets with dates of issue make up this splendid list: Why Americans Love Shakespeare, 1855; History of Rationalism, 1865 (rev. ed., 1901); Martyrs to the Tract Cause, 1872; Outline of Bible History, 1872; Life and Literature in the Fatherland, 1874; Outline of Church History, 1875; Our Theological Century, 1876; Christian Union Necessary for Religious Progress and Defense, 1880; Bibliotheca Theologica, a Bibliography of Theology, and General Religious Literature, 1883; Theological Encyclopædia and Methodology, with George R. Crooks, 1884 (rev. ed. 1894); The Gospel a Combative Force, 1884; Short History of the Reformation, 1884; The Success of the Gospel and the Failure of the New Theologies, 1886; Short History of the Early Church, 1886; Short History of the Mediæval Church, 1887; The Theology of the Twentieth Century, 1887; Short History of the Modern Church in Europe, 1888; The Wedding Day, 1889; Short History of the Church in the United States, 1890; Parochial Libraries in the Colonial Period, 1890; Indika: The Country and People of India and Ceylon, 1891; Short History of the Christian Church, 1893; Literature of Theology, 1896; Journal of Captain William Pote, Jr., 1896; History of the Christian Church, 2 vols., 1897-1900; The New Hearthstone, 1901; and the History of Methodism, in five volumes, now in press (1904).

THE BIBLIOPHILE.

How he loved books and how keen was his scent for rare literary treasures at the age of twenty-two, is indicated by certain autobiographic references taken from one of his papers entitled "About a Book Auction in Germany":

"As to taste I was always fond of everything old; had more liking for an old wall than a new palace; loved the old, jaundiced rag-woman better than my neighbor's sweet prattler; preferred a hollow log for a seat to the richest ottoman; always gave more for the first than for the last edition of a work, other things being equal; liked half-effaced pictures better than the glowing colors of new ones; had a passionate love for old maps and designs, and yet could not boast the slightest practical acquaintance with art; in fact I fell in love with everything that could boast a coat of the 'charming dust' . . . I stood one day in a Brunswick street and read a large placard announcing a great sale of old books, curious coins, pictures, shells, manuscripts and relics. The bill closed with the information of the place where a complete catalogue could be found giving many useful facts concerning the articles to be sold. My blood was at once crazy within me. I rushed over the grandest bridge in Brunswick without stopping a moment. Two old churches did I pass without thinking to look up at a single gargoyle. Soon I had the catalogue and taking the nearest street to my lodgings I neither ate nor slept until I had read every word of its precious contents. I closed it with an agitated frame and lost appetite. Nor did sleep come to my eyelids that night, and I was blessed with none save short and nervous snatches for the three nights and days that intervened before the antiquarian auction."

His interest in old books was always marked by a vital link connecting them with the life and thought of the present; it grew with his growth and strengthened with his strength; yet it was ever held in subordination to his dominant passion for useful work.

His pen-work was his by-play, an overflowing store;
Of books maker and lover, his love for men was more.
Not theory, but practice, the touchstone of his ken;
No brooding, hiding hermit, brave man amongst strong men.

Book-hunting was his choice recreation, though a close second was travel on foot. His happiest and most successful vacations were those in which these rivals were yoked together. A walk that promised punctuation by a chance at the drawers and corners and upper shelves of some book-stall had no superior as a spur to his striding pace. A book-shop three or four miles distant from his lodgings drew him more strongly than one near at hand—the enchantment lent to it not being due to mere distance, but rather to the opportunity to step it off in lively and tonic fashion. His daily and voluminous correspondence, entailing a great variety of cares and burdens, was lighted up and lightened by the ever-present bibliographic message. Booksellers were by no means the only ones to whom he wrote, when the emergency did not suggest the telegraph, but soldiers and sailors, consuls and missionaries, or whoever might be in touch with specimens of literature, ordinarily inaccessible, in any part of the postal world, were on his address list. His journeys by car and steamer and stage were often relieved of monotony by the study and butchery of the "cats." which had accumulated on his desk since his last trip. His favorite method of search was of the mousing kind, especially where the deposits had outgrown the primal plan of the shop and found their overflow into every sort of cranny or angle, or even invaded the most private precincts of the dealer's sanctum sanctorum. He was usually present by proxy at the leading book sales in New York, Boston and Philadelphia, and was as eager to learn the results of the bidding and the destination of particular items as the angler is to know where the shining sides of the largest trout have been latest seen, since the wary prize slipped from his own hook. How well he succeeded in landing his game let the pages which follow testify.

(REV.) ALBERT OSBORN.

THE library of Bishop Hurst comprises a variety of special collections possessing strong American interest, and is essentially a library of Americana. It contains particularly early Mexican imprints, 1540-1595, antedating by many years the first books printed in the American Colonies; works printed in the native languages of Mexico, including many items unknown to the most successful collectors of Mexican books; works in the Indian languages of North America; writings of the Mathers and other early New England divines; works printed at the earliest German presses established in America; books printed by Benjamin Franklin and his associates; early New England Primers, including several editions before 1800 wholly unknown to Paul Leicester Ford, whose bibliography of the "Little Bible of New England" was believed to be authoritative and complete; books from the Washington library, many of them with his autograph and book-plate; books printed by Caxton and other early English printers; specimens of the early Continental typographers; original manuscripts of Poe, Scott, Irving, Coleridge, Moore, and others. The autograph letters of Washington include several of the finest specimens which have ever been offered for sale.

Bishop Hurst's collection of books printed in the Nahuatl or Aztec language of Mexico is easily superior to any previously offered, and his collection of books printed in, or relating to, the Native North American languages rivals in extent and importance the greatest collections formed in the past.

The Mather collection, chiefly comprising the works of Increase and Cotton Mather, is one of the features of the New England portion of the library, and the collection of New England Primers is the most remarkable collection of these books since the third Brinley sale in 1881.

The present catalogue comprises only the Washington and Franklin collections, not including, however, the autograph and manuscript material. The Washington collection is one of the most valuable gatherings of the kind ever formed, containing over twenty volumes bearing the famous autograph of George Washington on the title-page, and a number of the books contain his authentic book-plate.

One of the most attractive portions of the Franklin collection — an extensive part of the library — is the special gathering of almanacs issued by Franklin. The earliest "Poor Richard" which Brinley could find was the issue of 1736; the earliest found by Stevens was 1740 (imperfect), his earliest perfect copy bearing the date of 1741. Bishop Hurst has the number for 1739, not found by the other collectors, and also the one for 1744, unprocurable by them. There are also nine of the "Pocket Almanacks" from 1752 to 1766. The "Cato Major" of 1744 is represented by no less than six copies, some of which are in exceptional condition. The collection of books and pamphlets printed by Franklin and his partners, books written by him, and other Frankliniana, is one of the largest ever offered for sale. Many of the imprints are of extraordinary rarity, and several were not in the Brinley and Stevens libraries.

Copied, by special permission, from original papers preserved in the office of the Secretary of State, PHILADELPHIA. 2 vols. 8vo, half calf, paper sides. LONDON: 1795.

* This collection was edited by JOHN CAREY, LL.D., a brother of MATHEW CAREY. In regard to his work, he wrote to WASHINGTON from LONDON, March 31, 1795, as follows:

"Sir: By the ship Factor, Captain Bowen, I have the honor of transmitting to Your Excellency two copies of your letters to Congress, written during the first four years of that memorable contest, etc."

"Respecting the plan of publication that I have adopted, which I fear Your Excellency will at first sight disapprove, and which is far from being satisfactory to myself, I would beg leave to refer to one of the copies above mentioned—the one in boards—containing some manuscript remarks expressive of the motives that influenced me on the occasion."

From the above it appears that the EDITOR SENT TWO COPIES OF HIS WORK TO GEN. WASHINGTON. One of them—described as "THE GEM OF WASHINGTON'S LIBRARY"—was sold in PHILA. in 1895, and fetched the sum of $1,650.

THE COPY NOW OFFERED IS THE SPECIAL ONE REFERRED TO, CONTAINING THE MANUSCRIPT REMARKS (3 pp.) AT END, AS WELL AS A LARGE NUMBER OF MARGINAL EXPLANATIONS, WHICH WERE COMMUNICATED BY THIS METHOD FROM THE EDITOR TO GEN. WASHINGTON. The notes at the end are printed in MR. GRIFFIN'S Catalogue (Boston Athenaeum Collection).

“My wish is that my Drawings, my Prints, my Curiosities, my Books—in a word these things of art which have been the joy of my life—shall not be consigned to the cold tomb of a museum, and subjected to the stupid glance of the careless passer-by; but I require that they shall all be dispersed under the hammer of the Auctioneer, so that the pleasure which the acquiring of each one of them has given me shall be given again, in each case, to some inheritor of my own tastes.”

PREFATORY.

THE second portion of Bishop Hurst's Library, contained in the following pages, comprises the large and valuable collection of books in the languages of North and South America or relating to those languages, the collection of the writings of the Mathers, the New England Primers, and some material not perhaps of such extreme importance as the subjects mentioned, but yet of considerable interest.

In the first session the Mathers commence the more important part of the sale, and leading the way is the exceedingly interesting volume which originally belonged to the noted divine Edward Taylor, of Westfield, and later to Ezra Stiles, containing the written petition of the former to Sir William Phipps concerning the estate of a kinsman, to which he laid claim; the 1670 edition of Samuel Mather's Testimony printed by Samuel Green at Cambridge, Mass., and several other interesting pamphlets. Among the other works of note are Increase Mather's first book, "The Mystery of Israel's Salvation," published in 1669; his "Wicked Man's Portion," the first book printed in Boston, as also the second book printed in the same city, "The Times of Men," and many others. Increase Mather's famous son Cotton is represented by the unique copy of his "Magnalia," which was at one time in the collections of Brayton Ives and of William Menzies. The old method of measuring sizes of leaves by eighths of inches has given way to the more exact French millimetre, and the size given by that method in the catalogue description will form a better guide for comparison with other copies, the result of which cannot fail to show the remarkable state of this example. Another interesting point in connection with this book is the slight difference in one of the copies, suggesting that there must have been more than one issue, of which the uncorrected copy was undoubtedly the earliest, and issued before Cotton Mather ascertained the faults which he amended by his leaves of errata. Among the other writings by the same author are his "Military Duties Recommended," preached in Charleston in 1686; his "Souldiers Counsell'd and Comforted," preached in 1689 on the occasion of the departure of some of the New England troops to take part in the first inter-colonial war; his "Present State of New England," written in connection with the same event; the curious "Christianus Per Ignem," perhaps the most quaintly amusing of his metaphorical writings; the very rare first edition of his "Essay to Do Good," etc.

The collection of New England Primers is possibly the most remarkable gathering of these rare books that has ever been put on the market. The Brinley Sale in 1881 formed an era in the eyes of the collector of these little books, but the Hurst Collection exceeds that one in number of rarities. But few of them will be found in Ford's Bibliography, and even some of those are the identical copies offered here.

Full notes are appended to each item and collations given for future bibliographical purposes, and an attempt has been made to approximate to the dates of those publications where the imprint fails to specify any. Some of these dates are naturally only approximate, but every care has been taken not to unduly stretch a point in this respect.

The collection of works in the various languages and dialects of the Indians of North America is of such extent that a whole session has to be taken for the special purpose of dealing with them. On looking through the 325 numbers there will be found but few of the Indian languages that are not represented. Among those of the most interest are included the second edition of Eliot's Indian Bible, the rare Mohawk Prayer Book printed by William Bradford in New York in 1715, the edition of the same printed in Quebec in 1780, and Joseph Brant's translation published in 1787. Another item of special importance is the Mohawk Primer published in 1786, with the curious frontispiece representing the interior of a native school, the master of which is an Indian, with shaved head and scalp lock, having beside him the traditional birch broom as a veiled threat to the Indian children who are before him. The languages range from the Esquimaux and Foxes of the extreme north to the tribes of the extreme south.

The languages of the remainder of the American continent are continued in the last session, where many items of similar interest will be found. Those relating to Mexico naturally occupy the principal place, where examples of early Mexican Presses are included. Here are to be met with books printed on the American continent before the Bay Psalm Book was ever thought of, when Drake was making his first buccaneering expedition, and before Raleigh made his first dismal attempt at colonization in Virginia. The writings of Molina, of Pedro de Arenas, of Martin de Leon, of Lorra Baquio, emphasize the importance of the collection, not merely for the student of the ancient languages of Mexico, but also for those interested in studying the history of the relations of the Spanish conquerors to their conquered native subjects.

The books relating to the South American languages, though not so extensive in number, are of great variety, among them being Raymond Breton's Carib Dictionary and Catechism, Diego de Tapia's Confessionario Cumanagota, Figueira's Grammatica da Lingua Geral, Fernandez's Relazione Istorica—an interesting book relating to the Indian tribes of Paraguay, and many others of equal value.

The languages of the Pacific Islands and a few books in the language of the natives of the Philippines are also comprised in this section.

American Almanacs.

- 531 RHODE ISLAND (THE) Almanack for the Year 1741. By Poor Robin. 12mo, half morocco, pp. 16 (the leaves somewhat worn). NEWPORT: The Widow Franklin, 1741.

* EXTREMELY RARE. The almanac was no doubt founded on those of the English poet Herrick which were issued under the same pseudonym. Much of the matter is in poetry. The introduction is a most lugubrious poem of 32 lines, prophesying a famine of such intensity that parents would devour their children, and many other remarkable events to happen. Not in Sabin or the Brinley Collection.

- 532 POOR JOB. An Almanack for . . . 1754. By Job Shepherd, Philom. 12mo, pp. 24. NEWPORT: James Franklin [1754].

* Rare. Besides a place in the library of the collector of early almanacs, these almanacs of Job Shepherd deserve a place among collections of early American Humor for the wit displayed in the poems. One short piece in this number would hardly be considered to-day as fit to appear in a popular publication.

- 533 POOR JOB'S . . . Almanack for . . . 1758. By Job Shepherd. 12mo, pp. 16 (slight damage to one leaf). NEWPORT: J. Franklin [1758].

* Rare and humorous.

- 534 GAINE'S Universal Register: or, Columbian Kalendar for the year 1787. (Contains texts of various Treaties, lengthy lists of Officials of the Principal States, particulars of different Societies, etc.) 16mo, sewed, pp. 204 (the last three pages is a Catalogue of Hugh Gaine's). NEW YORK: Hugh Gaine, 1787.

- 535 BICKERSTAFF'S ALMANACK for . . . 1788. 12mo, pp. 24 (small hole in one leaf). NORWICH [CONN.]: J. Trumbull [1788].

* "To which is added a surprising account of the discovery of a lady, who was taken by the Indians in the year 1777, and after making her escape . . . retired to a lonely cave where she lived nine years."

- 536 STRONG (NEHEMIAH). Almanack for . . . 1794. 12mo, pp. 24. HARTFORD: E. Babcock [1794].

- 537 BIOREN'S Town and Country Almanack for . . . 1812. 12mo, pp. 46. PHILADELPHIA: J. Bioren, 1812.

* This has apparently been the property in 1812 of a Rev. Dr. Bend, who has kept his accounts on the blank interleaved pages, and also a list of what appears to be baptisms, with the names and dates. Useful for genealogical purposes.

- 538 CRAMER'S PITTSBURGH ALMANAC, 1816. Post 8vo, pp. 72. PITTSBURGH: Cramer, Spear & Eichbaum [1816].
 * Scarce. The latter half of the almanac is entitled "The Magazine Almanack." Among the chapters are "The Western Country," "Pittsburgh and Surrounding Country," a biographical sketch of the printer, etc.
- 539 NEW YORK POCKET ALMANACK FOR 1771, by Thomas Moore, Philo., 24mo (wants a leaf or two at end), NEW YORK, Hugh Gaine, 1771; Imperfect copy of another one, by Hugh Gaine, probably about 1780. (The first is interleaved, and the original owner has kept a diary of the weather of 1781 on the leaves.) (As one piece.)
- 540 ALMANACS, VARIOUS. Franklin Almanacks (with portraits of Franklin), by Ward, PHILA. 1822-40; by W. Collom, PHILA. 1837; by David Hoyt, ROCHESTER, 1843 (curious portrait); Harrison Almanac, NEW YORK, 1841, numerous views and portrait, songs, etc.; and four others. (9 pieces.)
- 541 IMPERFECT ALMANACS. Christopher Sower's for 1754 and 1756; Another for 1749 (W Bradford?); and fragments of three others, 1740, etc. (As a lot.)
- 542 IMPERFECT ALMANACS. Cornelia Bradford's for 1745 and 1750; and two other for 1746, and 1747. (As a lot.)
- 543 IMPERFECT ALMANACS. Bickerstaff's for 1781, PROVIDENCE; McCulloch's for 1795, PHILA.; Poor Will's, PHILA., 1806; Poor Richard's, BOSTON, 1806; Middlebrook's, DANBURY, 1807; Facsimile reprint of Franklin's Poor Richard for 1733. (6 pieces, as a lot.)

Writings of the Mathers.

- 579 MATHER (SAMUEL—The Elder, son of Richard Mather). A VOLUME CONTAINING "BABEL NO BETHEL, BY H[ENRY] B[URTON], 1629"; ALEXANDER LAYTON'S "APPEAL TO THE PARLIAMENT (Sion's Plea against the Prelacy), Printed in the Year and moneth wherein Rochel was lost" [1628]; SAMUEL MATHER'S "TESTIMONY FROM SCRIPTURE AGAINST IDOLATRY AND SUPERSTITION," and "THE XXV. CASES CONCERNING THINGS INDIFFERENT IN RELIGIOUS WORSHIP," 1663. 8vo, old sheep.

* A volume of extreme interest, being Ezra Stiles' own copy, with his autograph on the end paper at the front of the volume, with date 1760, and also on the title-page of the first pamphlet, and in addition at the end of the "Sion's Plea" is a lengthy note of 3 pages in his handwriting, giving an account of the author and the severe punishment he suffered for publishing the book.

The first pamphlet is an attack on Charles I. and the prelacy, and the author was condemned for publishing it to stand in the pillory, have his ears slit, pay a fine of £5,000, and suffer imprisonment for life.

Alexander Layton or Leighton met with the same fate for his bitter attack on the English prelacy, actually having his ears cut off, his nose slit, and enduring so long an imprisonment that it left him a wreck. (Two leaves in this are slightly damaged.)

To add still further to its interest the volume was originally in the possession of Edward Taylor, a noted divine in New England, who graduated at Harvard in 1671, and became minister to Westfield in that year. Bound in with the end papers at the commencement of the volume is a long petition beginning: "Honoured Colonell," no doubt Sir William Phipps, referring to the death of a kinsman at New York, at the house of William Morris (an early noted citizen of New York, and one of the founders of Trinity Church), to whose estate he laid claim, signed, written and dated by Edward Taylor at Westfield, November 19, 1692. Part of this petition has been folded and stitched in by the binder, but it is perfectly readable, and can be easily detached. One or two notes in his autograph occur in the text, and on the front end paper he has written a list of the pamphlets in the volume.

SAMUEL MATHER'S TESTIMONY IS THE EXTREMELY RARE EDITION PRINTED BY SAMUEL GREEN AT CAMBRIDGE, NEW ENGLAND, IN 1670, WITH PREFACE BY INCREASE MATHER, WHO CAUSED IT TO BE PRINTED. Some doubt has been thrown on the date of publication and the printer of this by the absence of imprint, but in ascertaining the facts in such cases the evidence of those nearest the time, and of those best qualified to know, is of the greatest value. In relation to this book we have the testimony of Bartholomew Green, the son of the presumed printer, who stated to Thomas Prince, the famous New England divine, that it was printed at Cambridge with his father's type. It is difficult to conceive of anyone more competent to know the facts than one who worked in the same printing establishment, the son of the proprietor himself, and who must have been intimately acquainted with the whole business, and with Increase Mather and the others, whose writings they printed. Dr. Haven says it was printed at Cambridge about 1670, and Samuel A. Green includes it in his list of early American Imprints, fixing it at the same date, as does also Isaac Thomas. Many books have been accredited to certain printers on much less evidence than this.

- 580 MATHER (INCREASE). The Mystery of Israel's Salvation Explained and Applied; or, A Discourse Concerning the General Conversion of the Israelitish Nation, . . . etc. 12mo, handsomely bound by Tout in full polished calf, gilt. LONDON: Printed for John Allen, 1669.

[Collation: Title, 1 p. + Epistle to the Reader, signed John Davenport, 9 pp. + To the Reader, signed W. G., 4 pp. + To the Reader, signed W. H., 14 pp. + Author's Preface, 14 pp. + text, 181 pp. + Names of Writers and Places of Scripture, 9 pp.] The signature W. H. is William Hooke, the author of Newe England's Teares; W. G. may stand for William Goffe, the regicide, who was an intimate friend of John Davenport, and who also when the spirit moved him did some exhorting.

* FINE COPY OF THE FIRST EDITION OF INCREASE MATHER'S FIRST BOOK. Some copies have two title-pages, one having an imprint merely "Printed in the year 1669"; the other describing it as "London, Printed for John Allen in Wentworth Street near Bell Lane, 1669." This one has the second title only. If this book were simply printed for Allen, who was the real printer? John Allen was only a bookseller, who came to Boston in or about 1690, where he at first confined himself to selling books as in London. From the signatures to the preliminary matter it is evident that the author wrote it in Boston in 1667, yet no copy is known with an American imprint, and no proof can be given of its being one, but there is a reasonable possibility. But two presses were in America at the period—that of Samuel Green, the other Marmaduke Johnson's, both at Cambridge, Mass. On comparing this book with known products of Green's press we see at once a striking resemblance, not merely in the type, but in the ornaments used by the printer for decoration, among the latter being the border of acorns frequently met with in the books issued by him. Further study by librarians having facilities for the study of early Massachusetts imprints can throw much light on this interesting problem. Increase Mather was probably acquainted with John Allen when he was in London, and could have had the book printed by Green with a title-page for the bookseller, forwarding the majority of the copies to that city.

- 581 MATHER (INCREASE). Wo to Drunkards. Two Sermons testifying against the Sin of Drunkenness. Small 4to, sewed (top corners of last two leaves damaged and somewhat stained, and head lines cut into). [Collation: Title, 1 p. + To the Reader, 2 pp. + 34 pp.] CAMBRIDGE: Printed by Marmaduke Johnson, 1673, and sold by Edmund Ranger, bookbinder in Boston [1673].

* FIRST EDITION. SCARCE. A second edition was published in 1712. "The Indians are the saddest spectacles of Misery, and the most woful remembrance of the ruines of the righteous and glorious Image of God, that ever mortal eye beheld."

- 582 MATHER (INCREASE). The Day of Trouble is near. Two Sermons wherein is shewed . . . signs of a Day of Trouble being near . . . and . . . particularly for New England. . . Preached (the 11th day of the 12th moneth 1673, being a day of humiliation in one of the Churches in Boston). FIRST EDITION. Small 4to, sewed (wanting the title and introductory pages, but containing the whole of the text), pp. 31. CAMBRIDGE: Marmaduke Johnson, 1674.

- 583 MATHER (INCREASE). THE WICKED MAN'S PORTION, OR A SERMON (PREACHED AT THE LECTURE IN BOSTON IN NEW-ENGLAND THE 18TH. DAY OF THE 1 MONETH 1674, WHEN TWO MEN WERE EXECUTED, WHO HAD MURDERED THEIR MASTER). WHEREIN IS SHEWED THAT EXCESSE IN WICKEDNESS DOTH BRING UNTIMELY DEATH. Small 4to, bound by STIKEMAN, in full green crushed levant morocco, gilt. [Collation: Title, 1 p. + To the Reader, 2 pp. + 25 pp.] BOSTON: Printed by John Foster, 1675.

* THE FIRST BOOK PRINTED IN BOSTON. John Foster, who established the First Press in Boston, commenced his publishing career with this sermon by Increase Mather, the preface of which is dated "Boston N.E., 15 of 2 Moneth 1675." Brinley had a copy that at the sale of his library brought $140, and no other copy seems to have come into the auction rooms since that date [1879]. Considering the enormous rise that has taken place in the value of Americana since that sale, the price must be considered trifling for a book of such excessive rarity as the First Book printed in Boston. The title of the book written with ink at the end of the preface, and the autograph of Joshua Thomas, 1762, on the first page, top margins cut close in some places, slightly injuring the pagination.

- 584 MATHER (INCREASE). The Times of Men are in the hand of God: Or, a Sermon occasioned by that awfull Providence which hapned in Boston... (when part of a Vessel was blown up in the Harbour, and nine men hurt, and three mortally wounded), ... etc. Small 4to, bound by STIKEMAN, in full brown crushed levant morocco, gilt. [Collation: Title, 1 p. + To the Reader, 4 pp. + 21 pp.] BOSTON: John Foster, 1675.

* FIRST EDITION AND VERY RARE. THE SECOND BOOK PRINTED IN BOSTON.

- 585 MATHER (INCREASE). Diatriba de Signo Filii Hominis et de Secundo Messiae Adventu, ... etc. Authore Crescentio Mathero. 16mo, original old calf. [Collation: Title, 1 p.; [Ad.] Lectori, 6 pp. + 98 pp. + Index and Corrigenda, 6 pp.] AMSTELODAMI: Apud Mercy Browning, 1682.

* FIRST EDITION. Presentation copy from Increase Mather, having written on the fly-leaf, "Ex dono Authoris," also "Reverendo viro D. Henrico Selins dedit auctori." Henry Selyns (or Selins) was one of the most noted of the ministers of the Reformed Dutch Church, being pastor at Brooklyn in 1660, and also officiating at Peter Stuyvesant's farm in the Bowery; in 1682 he was given the charge of the Church in New York. The records of the Reformed Dutch Church in his handwriting still exist, though most of his other writings are now lost. Corrections in ink occur throughout the volume, which, no doubt, were made by Increase Mather himself.

586 MATHER (INCREASE). ANOTHER COPY of the same edition, but with the imprint of Mercy Browning cut out and that of Jacob vande Velde pasted in its place; bound up with Samuelis Petiti Diatriba de Jure, etc., ELZEVIER, 1649; De Sacrorum Dissidiorum Causis, ELZEVIER, 1649; and L. BOSTON: [S. Green] Printed for S. Sewall, 1682.

588 MATHER (INCREASE). Kometographia; Or, a Discourse concerning Comets, . . . as also two Sermons. FIRST EDITION. 16mo, original leather. (Poor copy, the edges of the title and several of the preliminary leaves worn away. The two sermons do not occur, and evidently were not bound with this copy.) BOSTON: S. G[reen] for S. S[ewall], 1683.

* Printed at the second press in Boston. Sewall had the assignment for printing after the death of John Foster, and employed Samuel Green, Jr., and one or two others to print for him.

589 MATHER (INCREASE). The Doctrine of Divine Providence Opened and Applied, also Sundry Sermons, etc. FIRST EDITION. 16mo, original wooden boards covered with leather. LONDON: J. Astwood, for John Dunton, 1689.

* Sabin says that the Discourses were not printed, and Trumbull in the Brinley

Catalogue seems also to have been in doubt about it. However, there is no doubt that they were both in error, for the "Several Sermons concerning Walking with God" (see Lot No. 621) were printed by the same printer for John Dunton, at the same time as this pamphlet, and the sheet signatures show that it was intended as a continuation.

Allen*, 1702.

* Rare. Printed anonymously. The author of the prefatory poem (an early specimen of American poetry) was Nicholas Noyes, a distinguished Salem divine, and notorious for his activity in the witchcraft persecutions. The verses prefixed to Mather's Magnalia were also by him.

The book is quaintly figurative, the use of the word "Fire" must have been a strain on the printer's fount of type. The contents is preceded by a short introduction in the same quaint style as the matter of the book. "Perhaps our Meditations may lye like Red-hot Stones in the Reader's Fire. And now, to lay the Red-hot Stones together in an Heap, that the Reader may take out which of them he please, at any time, to Touch his own Heart withal. Behold the Contents!" Some of the headings to the chapters are: On the And-Irons, On Green-Wood in the Fire, On the Fate of the Wood successively laid on the Fire, On the Kindling of a Fire on the Lord's Day, On the Smoke, On the Tongs, etc., etc.

(title-page to Book 7), 1 p.+Introduction, page 3+The Seventh Book, pages 4-118+Errata, 2 leaves+Books printed for Tho. Parkhurst, 2 leaves.

The Errata is in Facsimile, one of the very few copies that were made for Mr. Charles Deane. A mezzotint Portrait of Cotton Mather by Pelham cut to oval and inlaid precedes the title, together with a signed autograph letter of the author, dated Boston, 1712, also inlaid.

* A MATCHLESS COPY, THE LEAVES MEASURING 371 mm. x 209 mm., BELIEVED TO BE THE TALLEST COPY IN EXISTENCE. TRUMBULL DESCRIBES THE COPY IN THE BRINLEY CATALOGUE, MEASURING 13½ in. x 8¼ in. AS "LARGE PAPER, AND IN SUCH CONDITION AS OF SUPERLATIVE RARITY." UNFORTUNATELY THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE DOES NOT SUPPLY A WORD TO EXPRESS THAT WHICH IS OF A STILL HIGHER DEGREE THAN SUPERLATIVE, BUT IF THAT COPY WAS SUPERLATIVE HOW WOULD THIS ONE BE DESCRIBED? THE FORE EDGES OF A FEW LEAVES ARE ACTUALLY UNCUT.

IT IS A QUESTION IF THE ERRATA WAS EVER ORIGINALLY PUBLISHED WITH THE BOOK. VERY FEW COPIES HAVE IT. THE PROBABILITY IS THAT COTTON MATHER, ON RECEIPT OF THOSE FORWARDED TO AMERICA, HAD THIS ERRATA SPECIALLY PRINTED AND INSERTED IN THOSE IN WHICH IT IS FOUND, AND THAT THE COPIES WITHOUT IT ARE THE EARLIEST ISSUED. THE POINTS OF IMPORTANCE TO BE LOOKED FOR BY THE COLLECTOR ARE, THE ORIGINAL MAP, THE TWO LEAVES OF ADVERTISEMENTS (MANY COPIES HAVE ONLY ONE), THE ERRATA (IF THE COLLECTOR PRIZES THE LATER ISSUED COPIES TO THE EARLIER), AND THE LARGENESS OF THE PAPER. A CAREFUL READING OF THIS DESCRIPTION WILL SHOW THAT IN THESE POINTS THIS COPY APPROACHES THE UNIQUE. The Menzies and Brayton Ives copy. Bookplate of Sir William Gordon (18th century) on back of title.

636 — ANOTHER COPY. Bound in the old panelled calf (rebacked and repaired). A fine clean copy, measuring 323 mm. x 203 mm. With the original map and the two leaves of advertisements, but, as usual, without the errata. (A trifling stain on a few leaves at the end.) LONDON, 1702.

637 — ANOTHER COPY. Handsomely bound by J. LEIGHTON in brown levant morocco gilt, gilt edges. Fine clean copy, measuring 316 mm. x 200 mm. With the original map and the two leaves of advertisements, but without the errata. (The front margins of the map restored, and the top margin of title to Book 7.) LONDON, 1702.

* This copy is evidently one of the earliest issues. On an examination there will be found a few typographical errors (not mentioned in the errata), only some of which have been corrected in the two other copies. Apparently it has not been noticed by bibliographers that there have been more than one issue. A more careful study may show still farther differences.

- 638 MATHER (COTTON). Meat out of the Eater, Or Funeral Discourses Occasioned By the Death of several Relatives. 18mo, half calf (covers loose, corners of some leaves frayed, and part of title torn off). [Collation: Title, 1 p. + Preface, 4 pp. + 222 pp. BOSTON: Benjamin Eliot, 1703.

* The sermons are—"On an Only Son, My daughter Mary, My daughter Meheta-bel, My son Samuel, and Mrs. Abigail Mather" (his wife). Several poems occur throughout.

BOSTON: John Allen, 1708.

* RARE. Published anonymously. The poem occupies nearly 7 pages.

- 641 MATHER (COTTON). Bonifacius: an Essay upon the Good, that is to be Devised and Designed by those Who Desire to Answer the Great End of Life, and to Do Good while they Live. 12mo, in the original wooden boards covered with leather. [Collation: Title, 1 p. + Preface, pp. 1-XVLLL + Essays to Do Good, pp. 19 to 206.] BOSTON: B. Green, 1710.

* RARE. First edition of the Essays to do Good. At the end is an Appendix on the "Propagation of Religion among the Indians in the Massachusetts-Province." This Appendix is written as a continuation of the history given in the Magnalia Christi to which Mather refers. "The number of Indians in this land is not comparable to what it was. The Wars—they perfidiously began upon the English—brought a Quick Desolation upon whole Nations of them. At Martha's Vineyard and Elisabeth Islands there are Ten Congregations. Two Englishmen and ten Indians are preachers to them. At present we can do nothing for those Bloody Salvages in the Eastern Parts, who have been taught by the French Priests, That the Virgin Mary was a French Lady, and that Our Great Saviour was a Frenchman, and that the English Murdered Him. There has been Something done to Christianize the Mohegans, and other Indians in the Colony of Connecticut; but, Lord, who has believed!"

Following the Appendix is a seven-page description and analysis of Mather's proposed "Biblia Americana." Mather states that the whole has been completed and "ly waiting to be called for. They are in a Library, to be soon found in the American Boston."

 * RARE. Two issues were made of this in 1715. This is the earliest issue without date on either title-page or last leaf.
 The pamphlet was written in commemoration of John Cotton and Grindal Rawson. The appendix relating to the Indians is the same as that in the Bonifacius (see lot No. 641), but with an additional postscript.

[Collation: A, 7 leaves (should be 8, leaf preceding title lacking); B, 6 leaves; C, 6 leaves; D, 8 leaves; E, 4 leaves.]
 * VERY RARE. THE ONLY KNOWN COPY. NOT IN FORD.
- 684 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER IMPROVED. BOSTON: Printed for John Perkins, 1771. (Boards covered with leather, the side covering wanting; one or two leaves very slightly torn at the lower back margin, otherwise perfect, but leaves thumbled.) [Collation: 40 leaves, A to E, in eights.]
 * VERY RARE. THE ONLY KNOWN COPY. NOT IN FORD. Portrait of George III. preceding title.

- 685 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER IMPROVED. BOSTON: Printed for Thomas Leverett, 1771. (Wooden boards, leather back, side covering wanting; some leaves badly damaged.) [Collation: 40 leaves, A to E, in eights.]

* Evidently issued from the same press as the preceding, being identical in all respects, the imprint alone differing. VERY RARE. THE ONLY KNOWN COPY, AND THE ONE DESCRIBED BY FORD.

- 686 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER IMPROVED. BOSTON: Printed and sold by Kneeland and Adams, 1771. (Wooden boards, leather back, only a portion of the sides remaining; perfect, but thumb ed copy.) [Collation: 40 leaves, A to E, in eights.]

* Woodcut, "The Pope, or Man of Sin," precedes title. VERY RARE. THE ONLY KNOWN COPY. NOT IN FORD.

- 687 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER IMPROVED. [No place.] Printed in the year 1781. (Wooden boards, leather back, part of the sides missing, and corners of a few leaves worn away.) [Collation: 40 leaves, A to E, in eights.]

* VERY RARE. THE ONLY KNOWN COPY. NOT IN FORD. Portrait of John Hancock precedes the title.

- 688 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER IMPROVED. SALEM: Printed and sold by S. Hall, 1784. (Wooden boards, covered with leather; the binding damaged, and two or three leaves defective, others worn.) [Collation: 48 leaves, A to F, in eights.]

* VERY RARE. Apparently only this copy and the Deane copy known. Ford mentions this copy, but not the latter, but is unaccountably wrong in his collation, giving only 32 leaves, signatures A to D. If this collation was made from the Deane copy it is evident that it must be imperfect, and that this copy is the only one known with the correct number of leaves.

- 689 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER ENLARGED. BOSTON: Printed by E. Draper for James White, . . . Court Street, 1788. Wooden boards, leather back, recovered. [Collation: 40 leaves, A to E, in eights.]

* RARE. NOT IN FORD.

- 690 ——— ANOTHER COPY, without covers. Wanting the leaf preceding title, two leaves of signature C, and the whole of signature E.

- 691 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER ENLARGED. BOSTON: Printed by E. Draper for David West, 1789. Wooden boards covered with paper, leather back a little worn, small tears in a few of the leaves. [Collation: A, 7 leaves (wanting leaf preceding title); B, C, D, eight leaves each; E, 7 leaves (wanting the last).]

* VERY RARE. THE ONLY KNOWN COPY. NOT IN FORD.

- 692 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER. BOSTON: Printed and sold by J. White near Charles-River Bridge, n. d. [circa 1789]. Wooden boards covered with paper, leather back. [Collation: 32 leaves, A to D, in eights.] Fine copy.

* EXTREMELY RARE. NOT IN FORD AND THE ONLY KNOWN ISSUE. Ford describes a copy with this imprint, in the Brown University Library, as having 48 leaves, and apparently supposed Bp. Hurst's copy to be identical. In this he was in error, as it is perfect in 32 leaves, showing that this and the following lot are both evidently unknown issues. Ford also facsimiles the titles, but this differs in the border. The printer, J. White, can certainly not be the James White of Court St. who published the editions of 1788 and 1798. Portrait of Washington precedes title.

- 693 ——— ANOTHER COPY, with the same imprint. Paper wrapper, wanting the last wrapper. A few of the cuts badly colored. [Collation: A, 16 leaves, no signature B; C, 15 leaves (lacking the last). (Stained.)

* This is evidently a second issue of the same edition, some misprints being corrected. It has a few other alterations, and is also not as described by Ford, though the title-page agrees with the facsimile. Practically it corresponds page for page with the foregoing, but the back of the title contains some verses beginning "Children, to your Creator, God," with a woodcut of some houses, not in the preceding. Portrait of Washington before title, with quotation from Proverbs, etc., on reverse; in the other copy the reverse has Song of Praise by Watts. Printed probably circa 1790.

- 694 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER ENLARGED AND IMPROVED.

NEWBURYPORT: Printed and sold by John Mycall; sold also by Isaiah Thomas, at his shops in Boston and Worcester, n. d. [circa 1790]. Wooden boards covered with paper (the boards cracked), leather back, a portion of three leaves torn off. [Collation: A, 7 leaves (wanting leaf preceding title), D8, E7 (wanting the last leaf). The leaves of the last two sheets have been roughly fastened in and misplaced.]

- 695 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER ENLARGED AND IMPROVED.

NEWBURYPORT: Printed by Samuel S. Parker, n. d. [circa 1790]. Binding defective, title rubbed. [Collation: 40 leaves, A to E, in eights.]

* RARE. NOT IN FORD. Many pages in this are apparently printed in the same fount of type as the Newburyport, J. Mycall imprint, No. 694. Some variations occur, but the similarity of those pages in the square-faced type is very striking, and one or two misprints in this edition have been corrected in the other, showing a possibility of this being even earlier than the date suggested.

- 696 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER IMPROVED. BOSTON: Printed by Joseph Bumstead for David West, 1791. No covers. [Collation: A to D in eights (last leaf of signature D wanting).]

* RARE. Portrait of "The President of the United States of America" preceding the title. THE ONLY KNOWN COPY.

- 697 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER IMPROVED. NEW YORK: Printed by G. Forman (for?) Robert Macgill, 1794. No covers, somewhat stained, a few slight tears in some of the leaves, and title slightly defective. [Collation: pp. 1 to 64, four leaves probably wanting after p. 64; title included in the pagination.]

* EXTREMELY RARE. THE ONLY KNOWN COPY OF THE EARLIEST EXTANT NEW YORK ISSUE. This edition contains several variations from the usual issues, among them being "Description of a Good Boy," "Description of a Bad Boy," "The Good Girl," "The Naughty Girls," "Character of the Avangelists" (sic), etc.

- 698 ROYAL PRIMER; or, an Easy and Pleasant Guide to the Art of Reading. Embellished with Cuts. Printed and sold by Samuel Hall, . . . BOSTON: 1796. Original marbled paper wrappers, a little worn; first and last leaf mounted. [Collation: A, 8 leaves; B, 4 leaves; C, 8 leaves; D, 4 leaves; E, 6 leaves (should have 8); F, 3 leaves (wanting blank leaf at end).]

* Towards the close of the 18th Century, the Royal Primer began to supplant the New England Primer.

- 699 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER IMPROVED. BOSTON: Printed by James Loring, n. d. [1798?] Wooden boards covered with paper, leather back. The leaves loose, but a fine copy. [Collation: 32 leaves, A to D, in eights. First and last leaf on inside of covers.]

* Undoubtedly the first issue of this edition. The frontispiece is of two children in a wood, and the last picture is of a man and dog walking across a field, neither of which appears in the later issues with this imprint.

- 700 ——— ANOTHER COPY of the same issue. The binding defective, and consequently part of the first and last leaf lacking, the first three leaves a little damaged in the back margin.

- 701 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER IMPROVED. BOSTON: Printed by Manning and Loring, n. d. [circa 1803]. Wooden boards covered with paper, leather back. Slight tear in one leaf, and small hole in margin of another, otherwise good copy. [Collation: 32 leaves, A to D, in eights. First and last leaf on inside of cover.]

* Almost identical with the two preceding, the only difference noticeable being the omission of a small typographical mark. The firm of Manning and Loring commenced business in 1803.

- 702 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER IMPROVED. BOSTON: Printed by James Loring, n. d. Wooden boards covered with paper. [Collation: 32 leaves, A to D, in eights.] Fine copy.

* This differs from lots No. 699-701 (with the same imprint), in the omission of the two cuts. No doubt, a somewhat later issue than the three preceding.

- 703 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER IMPROVED. ANOTHER COPY.
Wooden boards covered with paper, leather back. (In this copy the first and last leaf form the lining to the covers.)
- 704 ——— ANOTHER COPY. Wooden boards. (Binding of front cover defective, and small holes cut in the title-page and frontispiece.)
- 705 ——— ANOTHER COPY. Wooden boards. (Binding defective, and two leaves wanting in signature A, and half of the last leaf.)
- 706 ——— ANOTHER COPY. Paper wrappers, end one wanting.
- 707 ——— ANOTHER COPY. Paper wrappers.
- 708 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER ENLARGED. BOSTON: Printed by E. Draper for James White, Court Street, 1798. Wooden boards, covered with paper (small tears in a few leaves). [Collation: 40 leaves, A to E, in eights.]
* RARE. THE ONLY KNOWN COPY. NOT IN FORD. This edition seems to be almost identical with the edition printed for James White by E. Draper in 1788, the only difference in the typography being in the two-line descriptions to the cuts of animals, otherwise it could easily be mistaken for the same issue.
- 709 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER. NEW-ENGLAND: Printed for the purchaser, n. d. Wooden boards, covered with paper, leather back. Frontispiece represents a woman and child walking in front of a house and fenced-in garden. [Collation: 32 leaves, A to D, in eights.]
* On the back of the frontispiece is written, "Hannah Watts Her Book." A note is inserted, stating that the name of Hannah Watts occurs in the records of the North Church, Salem, and that she was baptized in 1737. We would ourselves hesitate to put any such early date on this edition, but for an approximation to it see lot No. 711 following. There is a curious mix-up in the arrangement of the illustrated alphabet.
- 710 ——— ANOTHER COPY of the same issue. Wooden boards, covered with paper, leather back (two or three leaves have slight tears in them).
- 711 ——— THE SAME EDITION as the two preceding, but apparently a little later issue; one or two typographical errors being corrected. (No covers and imperfect, wanting the whole of signature A, excepting the last leaf, and also lacking the last leaf of signature D.)
* This copy is interesting as having a faded inscription, which, however, can be partly read as "Lucy (Silvester?) Leicester? Novm. 18th, 1798." This would suggest the publication as having been made either in that year or before it.
- 712 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER MUCH IMPROVED. PHILA.: T. Dobson, 1799. Original colored paper wrappers (a little worn at the back, a few leaves thumbled, but otherwise a good copy). [Collation: 36 leaves, A to C, in twelves].
* RARE. NOT IN FORD, AND THE ONLY KNOWN COPY.

- 713 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER. NEW ENGLAND: Printed for the Booksellers, n. d. [circa 1799]. Wooden boards (in poor condition). [Collation: 32 leaves A and B, wanting the first and last leaf.]
- 714 ——— ANOTHER ISSUE of the same edition, varying from the preceding in having a few typographical errors corrected. Wooden boards, covered with paper, leather back (back cover broken and a little defective, last leaf slightly damaged and a few tears here and there. The leaf preceding the title lacking.) [Circa 1799.]
- 715 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER IMPROVED. MOUNT-PLEASANT: Printed by Russel Canfield for D. Smith . . . and C. Brown, N. York, 1801. Last leaf printed on the wrapper, front wrapper wanting, a few slight tears in the margins, pp. 71 (leaf preceding title counted in the pagination wanting).
* RARE. NOT IN BRINLEY OR SABIN. Printed in Sing Sing, or Ossining.
- 716 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER ENLARGED. WRENTHAM: Printed by Nathaniel Heaton, Jun., 1802. Original blue paper wrappers (one leaf torn, but perfect, and small hole in last leaf). [Collation: 36 leaves, A to C, in twelves.]
* RARE. NOT IN BRINLEY OR SABIN.
- 717 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER, ENLARGED AND IMPROVED. BOSTON: Printed by Thomas Fleet, 1804. Wooden boards, covered with paper, leather back (binding cracked, some writing on back of title, two pictures crudely colored, and two letters cut out of the Alphabet). [Collation: 32 leaves, A to D, in eights.]
* NOT IN BRINLEY OR SABIN.
- 718 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER IMPROVED. NEW YORK: Printed by Deare and Andrews, 1805. Paper wrappers (the front one worn, the first two leaves worn and hole in another leaf). pp. 71.
* NOT IN BRINLEY OR SABIN.
- 719 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER. WALPOLE, N. H.: Printed for Thomas and Thomas by G. W. Nichols, 1806. Wooden boards, covered with paper (binding loose, back wanting, and small hole in frontispiece). [Collation: 32 leaves, A to D, in eights.]
* NOT IN BRINLEY OR SABIN. An odd picture in the illustrated alphabet in this and the three following editions is the cut illustrating "The Idle Fool is whipt at school," where the boy is shown kneeling by a chair, with scanty raiment, and being birched in the traditionary manner of the olden time. This cut is apparently in no other editions than those with Thomas imprint.

- 720 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER. ANOTHER COPY. Wooden boards (imperfect, wanting half the frontispiece and one leaf in signature A and one leaf in signature C).
- 721 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER. WALPOLE, N. H.: Printed by I. Thomas and Co., 1814. Wooden boards, covered with paper, leather back (the margin of one leaf cut close, otherwise a very fine copy). [Collation: 32 leaves, A to D, in eights.]
- 722 ——— ANOTHER COPY of the same (imperfect and no covers). 14 leaves, containing the illustrated alphabet, etc.
- 723 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER IMPROVED. TROY, N. Y.: Printed and sold by Wright, Goodenow and Stockwell, 1807. Paper wrappers (wanting the front one, and also wanting the leaf preceding the title). [Collation: 71 pp. Signatures A to C in twelves.]
* NOT IN BRINLEY OR SABIN.
- 724 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER. MASSACHUSETTS: Printed for the purchaser, 1808. Wooden boards, covered with paper, leather back (small pieces torn from the margins of several leaves and some others torn across). [Collation: 32 leaves, A to D, in eights. Wanting the leaf preceding title and the last leaf of signature D.]
- 725 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER. MASSACHUSETTS: Printed for the purchaser, 1810. Wooden boards, covered with marbled paper, leather back. Collation as above. (Wanting one leaf in signature B and small hole in another, otherwise a fine clean copy.)
- 726 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER. MASSACHUSETTS: Printed for the purchaser, 1811. (No covers.) Collation as Lot 724. (Wanting the leaf preceding title, edges of a few leaves worn.)
- 727 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER. MASSACHUSETTS: Printed for the purchaser, 1812. Wooden boards (paper mostly worn off), leather back. Collation as Lot 724.
- 728 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER IMPROVED. LANSINGBURGH: Printed by Tracy and Bliss, 1810. Paper wrappers (name written on title and two other leaves). [Collation: 72 pp., A 16 pp. + B 8 pp. + C 16 pp. + D 8 pp. + E 16 pp. + F 8 pp.]
* NOT IN BRINLEY OR SABIN.
- 729 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER IMPROVED. LANSINGBURGH: Printed by Tracy and Bliss, 1816. Paper wrappers (imperfect copy, wanting all after p. 58, and the last few leaves damaged).

- 730 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER. HAVERHILL, MASS.: Printed and Sold by W. B. and H. O. Allen, 1810. Wooden boards, covered with paper, leather back (binding in poor condition, title and a few leaves somewhat torn, and worm holes in last few leaves). [Collation: A 8 leaves (wanting leaf preceding title), B 8 leaves, C 8 leaves, D 8 leaves (wanting after D 6).]

* VERY RARE IMPRINT. NOT IN BRINLEY OR SABIN. The cuts in the illustrated alphabet are very quaint and original. That illustrating "Proud Korah's troop was swallow'd up" is evidently American and English soldiers fighting behind an entrenchment; another is meant for a portrait of Washington; the cock crowing to Peter is very odd, etc.

- 731 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER IMPROVED. NORTHAMPTON: Printed for Simeon Butler, n. d. [circa 1810]. Fine copy in original wooden boards covered with paper, leather back. (36 leaves, 1 to 3, in twelves.)

- 732 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER IMPROVED. BOSTON: Printed by Benjamin True(?), n. d. [circa 1810]. Wooden boards covered with paper, leather back (binding cracked, and small portion of two leaves torn off). Curious cut on leaf preceding title of an Eighteenth Century Post Boy blowing a Post-Horn. [Collation: 32 leaves, folded in two sheets. Though no signatures are marked, the book is undoubtedly perfect.]

* NOT IN BRINLEY OR SABIN.

- 733 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER IMPROVED. NORWICH: Printed by Russell Hubbard, 1812. Wooden boards covered with paper, leather back. [Collation: 36 leaves, A to C, in twelves.] Fine copy.

* NOT IN BRINLEY OR SABIN.

- 734 ——— ANOTHER COPY. (Binding worn and edges of a few leaves frayed.)

- 735 ——— ANOTHER COPY. Paper wrappers. Good copy.

* NOT IN BRINLEY OR SABIN.

- 737 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER IMPROVED. GLASGOW: Published for Exportation, 1815. Paper wrappers, pp. 80 (thumbed and used copy).

* VERY RARE. NOT IN BRINLEY OR SABIN. This contains a variation from the cut in Lot 719 of the boy being whipt. In this the boy is laid across the man's knees and is seen sideways not from the rear. Remarkable also for a word that occurs among those divided into syllables.

- 738 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER IMPROVED. GREENFIELD: Printed by Denio and Phelps, 1816. Wooden boards covered with paper, leather backs. [Collation: 32 leaves (A and B not signed), 16 leaves, C and D in eights.]
 * Fine copy. NOT IN BRINLEY OR SABIN.
- 739 ——— ANOTHER COPY. (Front cover cracked, otherwise fine copy.)
- 740 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER IMPROVED. BALLSTON SPA: Printed by J. Comstock, 1817. Original paper wrappers, pp. 72.
- 741 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER IMPROVED. ALBANY: Printed and sold by G. J. Loomis and Co., 1818. Original paper wrappers, pp. 71. Fine copy.

- 745 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER IMPROVED. HARTFORD: Printed by George Goodwin and Sons, 1820. Original paper wrappers, pp. 62. The cuts re-engraved by J. W. Barber. Fine copy.
- 746 ——— ANOTHER COPY. Also in fine condition.
- 747 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER IMPROVED. WHEELING (VA.): Davis and McCarty, 1823. 12mo, original paper wrappers, pp. 36.
 * NOT IN BRINLEY OR SABIN.
- 748 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER IMPROVED. NEWARK: Benjamin Olds, 1824. Original paper wrappers, pp. 63.
- 749 ——— ANOTHER COPY of the 1824 edition, but the wrapper bearing the date of 1826. [The back cover of this does not bear the vignette that appears on that of 1824, but has the advertisement of the publisher instead.]
- 750 ——— ANOTHER COPY (wanting the front cover and leaf preceding title, also somewhat foxed); also another copy (lacking one leaf and part of another, and top edge damaged by fire). (2 pieces.)
- 751 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER IMPROVED. NEW HAVEN: S. Babcock, 1825. Paper wrappers, pp. 72. (The wrappers have the date 1836, but the title is as described.)

- 752 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER IMPROVED. ANOTHER EDITION of the same. No date. (This seems a little later issue, probably about 1836, with some alterations.) Original green wrappers.
- 753 ——— ANOTHER COPY, also in green wrappers.
- 754 ——— ANOTHER COPY. Original pink wrappers.
- 755 ——— ANOTHER COPY. Original blue wrappers.
- 756 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER IMPROVED. NEW YORK: Printed and Published by George Long, 1826. Original paper wrappers, pp. 71. In the illustrated alphabet is a portrait of Washington with a sword over his shoulder; also there occurs the rhyme, "The British King, Lost States Thirteen."
- 757 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER IMPROVED. LENOX: Printed and Published by J. G. Stanly, 1829. Wanting covers. Pp. 64 (lacking pp. 39-42, and 63-64).
- 758 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER IMPROVED. NEW YORK: Pinted (sic) for the Bookselles (sic), 1829. Original wrappers, pp. 71.
*NOT IN BRINLEY OR SABIN. Curious on account of the two misprints in the imprint.
- 759 ——— ANOTHER COPY. Neatly bound in half red morocco, marbled edges.
- 760 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER IMPROVED. NEW YORK: Carefully Revised and Printed, 1829.
* Identical with the preceding, except in the imprint. The spelling of the imprint in the former no doubt caused the title to be reprinted.

* NOT IN BRINLEY OR SABIN. The illustrated alphabet contains a cut of Washington with sword on his shoulder, but differing from that in Lot 756.

 * VERY RARE. Printed by the First Printer in Bennington. With many quaint cuts. One of the poems indirectly refers to political affairs, "T was a toy of royalty, of late almost forgot." . . . "The Lion now the French affirm is shackled with the chain." . . . "When a bauble was fought for the Lion fought best, 'till the Unicorn's chains were unlocked in the west."

 * This contains the famous old nursery rhymes, "A was an Apple-Pye," and also "A was an Archer." Possibly the first to contain these rhymes, and a very early specimen of a radical departure from the thralldom of the famous but dreary "New England Primer."

- 1008 CLAESSE (LAWRENCE). THE MORNING AND EVENING PRAYER, THE LITANY, CHURCH CATECHISM, FAMILY PRAYERS, AND SEVERAL CHAPTERS OF THE OLD AND NEW TESTAMENT TRANSLATED INTO THE MAHAQUE INDIAN LANGUAGE. Small 4to, finely bound by ZAEHNSDORF in full brown crushed levant morocco, neatly blind tooled, gilt edges. [Titles in English and Mohawk + pp. 115 + pp. 21.] NEW YORK: Printed by William Bradford, 1715.

* FIRST EDITION OF THE MOHAWK PRAYER BOOK. EXTREMELY RARE.

Among the books printed for the instruction of the American Indians two are of the greatest rarity and value. The first is Eliot's Indian Bible, the second is the Mohawk Prayer Book. To whom the most credit is due for the compilation of the Prayer Book it is difficult at this day to say, but to the Rev. Mr. Freeman and the Rev. W. Andrews the larger share must be allowed. Lawrence Claesse is described as Interpreter to the latter minister, and from the great reputation he had in this respect, visiting and dwelling among the Indians, it may be assumed that he freely revised and corrected the manuscripts of the two former divines as he thought fit. Another point of interest is the fact, also, of its being a specimen from the press of the first printer in New York. Some former possessor had evidently erased a name from the English title, necessitating the restoring of two words, and the corners of a few leaves, also, have been restored or strengthened; otherwise a good copy, with broad margins. Brinley did not possess a copy.

- 1009 ORDER (THE) FOR MORNING AND EVENING PRAYER, AND ADMINISTRATION OF THE SACRAMENTS, AND SOME OTHER OFFICES OF THE CHURCH OF ENGLAND: TOGETHER WITH A COLLECTION OF PRAYERS, AND SOME SENTENCES OF THE HOLY SCRIPTURES, NECESSARY FOR KNOWLEDGE AND PRACTICE. THE THIRD EDITION, COLLECTED AND TRANSLATED INTO THE MOHAWK OR IROQUOIS LANGUAGE. PUBLISHED BY ORDER OF HIS EXCELLENCY FREDERICK HOLDIMAND. REVISED, WITH CORRECTIONS AND ADDITIONS, BY DANIEL CLAUS, . . . AGENT FOR THE SIX NATIONS IN QUEBEC. 12mo, sheep. [Title, advt. and contents, 3 leaves + 208 pp., with both end papers.] [QUEBEC]: Printed in the Year 1780.

* The third Mohawk Prayer Book and the Second Edition of that published by direction of Sir William Johnson.

The first edition was published by William Bradford in New York, 1715; in 1762 this had become unobtainable, and Sir William Johnson then employed the Rev. W. Andrews, Dr. H. Barclay, and the Rev. John Ogilvie to translate anew, add to, and revise the former issue, practically making a new book, which, through various delays, was not printed until 1769, when Hugh Gaine finished what Wm. Weyman had begun. In the Revolutionary troubles that followed, this edition disappeared, many being given to the Indians, and some destroyed when Sir William Johnson's library was seized. The advertisement for this Third Edition narrates the reasons for its publication:

"It," (Sir William Johnson's edition) "being—replete with mistakes—and the Indians could make no sense of several passages in the book. For which reasons the Mohawks—petitioned his Excellency to have a new edition printed, for fear of the Book's getting irrecoverably lost."

THIS IN ITS TURN HAS NOW BECOME EXTREMELY SCARCE. The copy here issued is of great interest, being in the original binding, and having apparently once been in the possession of an Indian who has written some translations on the end paper at the back of the book, including one of Psalm 84. On the lining of the back cover is written in a later hand "Eleazer"—or "Eleazers," the remainder of the name being torn off. This might suggest the well-known "Eleazer Williams." A few other annotations and remarks occur in the text, and the edges of two or three leaves slightly worn; otherwise a remarkably fine copy.

An abridgment of Bradford's first Mohawk Prayer Book was printed in Boston in 1763, which some count as the second edition; but it was only a partial reprint.

- 1010 THE BOOK OF COMMON PRAYER. A NEW EDITION, TO WHICH IS ADDED THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO ST. MARK, TRANSLATED INTO THE MOHAWK LANGUAGE BY CAPT. JOSEPH BRANT, AN INDIAN OF THE MOHAWK NATION. 8vo, contemporary calf, gilt (cracked at the joints). [Two title-pages, English and Mohawk; Preface and contents, 3 leaves; Text, pp. 2 to 505 + 1 p., Observations on Mohawk and Errata. Frontispiece and 18 plates engraved in aquatint by James Peachey.] LONDON, 1787.

* The Fourth Edition of the Mohawk Prayer Book, and the First Edition of Brant's (Thayendanegea's) translation. The Mohawk and English on opposite pages. The translation of St. Mark is the first complete rendering into Mohawk of any of the Gospels. Fine clean copy, with good margins. SCARCE.

- 1011 THE BOOK OF COMMON PRAYER, . . . translated into the Mohawk Language, compiled from various translations, revised and corrected by the Rev. Abraham Nelles, . . . the Collects, Service of Baptism, etc., translated by John Hill, Jr., . . . appear in Mohawk for the first time in this edition of the Prayer Book. 8vo, roan. HAMILTON (ONTARIO), 1842.

* THE RARE SECOND EDITION OF ELIOT'S INDIAN BIBLE, containing the Old and New Testaments, Metrical Version of the Psalms (in addition to the prose translation in its proper place), and the Catechism at the end.

This second edition was revised, during the six years occupied in its printing, by the Rev. John Cotton, and will always be the most valuable of all the editions to the student of the ancient languages of America, on account of the correction of errors made in printing and in translating. Errors yet remain, but chiefly typographical and of little moment, and O'Callaghan, in his list of editions of the Bible printed in America, gives a complete list. The curious feature of this copy is that, while most of these typographical errors remain, yet a few are printed correctly, thus forming an issue of the edition that does not correspond exactly with any printed collation. This second edition also contains summaries to the chapters, not published in the first. A few pages have been shaved by a former binder close to the bottom line of the text, but nothing is missing except a few catchwords.

Accompanying is an A. L. S. by Wilberforce Eames of the Lenox Library, certifying that he has examined this copy, and that it is perfect in text and genuine throughout.

su original en la Imprenta de Francisco Xavier de Morales en el PORTAL DE BORJA (PUEBLA), 1726.

* The date of this edition, on a hasty glance, appears to be 1716, but is really 1726. Carelessness in thus noticing the defect in printing has led some bibliographers to mention an edition of 1716 as existing, which is an undoubted mistake.

Y a costa de Diego Perez de los Rios*, Año. De. 1611.

* VERY RARE. The author was a native of Mexico who joined the Dominicans in 1574, and devoted himself assiduously to the spiritual welfare of the Indians. A very important part of the book is his account of the Mexican Calendar (written in Spanish for the information of the priests); the greater part of the text is in Mexican, and among the chapters are "Arte de Bien Morir," "Modo de Hazer Testamētos," etc. The supplementary pages, "Los Gobernadores," contain a list and short account of the Viceroyes of New Spain, from Cortes to Don Fran. Garcia Guerra.

Some leaves at the end wormed.) [Title and 6 preliminary leaves+135 numbered leaves.] EN MEXICO: por Diego Gutierrez, año 1634.

* Very rare. In Spanish and Mexican throughout. The author was a native of Mexico, joined the Dominicans and took charge of the parishes of Huasteca, of Atlacomulco, and of Tampamolón.

- 1161 MANUALITO para Administrar el Viatico y Extremauncion en Idioma Mexicano. 16mo, sewed, pp. 13. MEXICO, 1817.

[Title and 7 preliminary leaves+81 numbered leaves+Table, etc., 7 pp.] EN MEXICO: En casa Diego Lopez Davalos, 1605.

* Apparently no perfect copy of this extremely rare book is known. This one wants folios 40, 41, 42, and 48, and a corner and small hole in folio 68 have been supplied in MS. The early part is somewhat wormed in the back margin, but although closely approaching the letterpress, nothing is wanting, and one or two places in the margin have been strengthened. Three full-page woodcuts appear in the preliminary pages, and two of St. Augustine and St. Monica at the end.

- 1164 MOLINA (PADRE FRAY ALONSO DE). AQUI COMIENÇA UN VOCABULARIO EN LA LENGUA CASTELLANA Y MEXICANA. COMPUESTO POR EL MUY REVERENDO PADRE FRAY ALONSO DE MOLINO: GUARDIÄ DL CÖVETO D SANT ANTONIO D LA ORDÈ DE LOS FRAYLES MENORES. MEXICO: En Casa de Juä Pablos, 1555.

* EXTREMELY RARE. The first edition, but wanting title and some leaves. This copy commences at folio 14, and then contains from folio 21 to 236, wanting the concluding leaves. Many written annotations and ink marks occur throughout, some evidently contemporary, others of a later date, and the edges of some of the leaves damaged and repaired. In a 19th century Spanish calf binding.

No author is of greater importance or interest in the study of Mexican linguistics than Molina. Coming with his parents as a child to Mexico in 1523, he learnt the native language at a very early age, and served as interpreter to the earliest Franciscans in their offices to the Mexicans, accompanying them in their visits to the native dwellings and towns. Later he joined the Order, and the fruits of his studies and of his devotion are to be found in these books, and in some MSS. still existing but not published.

Folios 2 to 20. MEXICO: Antonia de Espinosa, 1565.

* VERY RARE. Complete, but the original title supplied in excellent facsimile.

- 1166 MOLINA (PADRE FRAY ALONSO DE). VOCABULARIO EN LENGUA CASTELLANA Y MEXICANA (AND VOCABULARIO EN LENGUA MEXICANA Y CASTELLANA). 2 parts in one vol. Royal 8vo, half calf. [Part I., title and 3 preliminary leaves+121 numbered ll.+one unnumbered at end, with woodcut of kneeling figure and printer's device on back; Part II., title and 1 preliminary leaf+162 numbered leaves]. (The margin and corners of a few leaves repaired, and two leaves slightly wormed.) MEXICO: En casa de Antonio Spinosa, 1571.

* A complete copy of this very rare and valuable Mexican dictionary, copies of which are very seldom met with. The repairs are so trifling as to hardly require mentioning, and the condition is much above the average. The few copies that have occurred for sale within the last 20 years have in every case brought high and advancing prices, and some have not been in as good a condition as this copy.

- 1167 ——— ANOTHER COPY. Loose in the binding, complete, but wanting a portion of the first title, wormed in places, some of the top corner margins damaged by fire (text not touched), and some leaves supplied from a smaller copy. (Sold as a defective copy.) MEXICO, 1571.

* Would make a useful working copy, or be useful to complete an imperfect one.

- 1168 PAREDES (P. IGNACIO DE). PROMPTUARIO MANUAL MEXICANO, QUE A LA VERDAD PODRÁ SER UTILISSIMO A LOS PARROCHOS PARA LA ENSEÑANZA; A LOS NECESITADOS INDIOS PARA SU INSTRUCCION. Frontispiece. Small 4to, original limp vellum, with ties. [Collation: Front.+title, 1 p.+22 preliminary leaves+380 pp.+xc. pp.] MEXICO: Imprenta de la Bibliotheca Mexicana, enfrent de San Augustin, 1759.

* RARE. A remarkable copy, as clean and fresh as on the day of publication.

The book is a series of discourses and sermons for every day in the year, written in Nahuatl, with accompanying explanations of many of the words in Spanish. Primarily written for the priests to use in their native congregations; the sermons abound with narratives of signs and miracles of the most marvellous nature to suitably impress the Indians. The last sermon is an account of Santa Maria de Guadalupe, her miraculous appearance, and the marvellous works she did on behalf of the Indians.

* The author was an Italian who, permitted by the Court of Spain to reside in Mexico, spent eight years in gathering old books, documents, maps, antiquities, etc., relating to that country, and of which he gives a lengthy, descriptive, and interesting catalogue. His "idea" of the proper method of writing a history forms very entertaining reading—those portions of the history which would relate to the heroes of Mexico and their heroic deeds were to be written in "heroic verse," etc. The King of Spain, instead of supporting and aiding his "idea," seized the whole collection he had so patiently gathered and confiscated them, and what has become of them now is not definitely known. Many explanations of Aztec words and expressions occur throughout.

FUERON REFORMADOS . . . EN LA CIUDAD DE TOLEDO EN EL AÑO 1583. Small 4to, original limp vellum. MEXICO: En casa de Pedro Ocharle, 1585.

* VERY RARE. Icazbalceta, in his bibliography of 16th Century Mexican books, describes this book as having 135 folios. This copy has 136, the title-page being counted in the printed numeration. The pagination ends with 125, the remaining leaves consisting of table, &c. In addition, eight pages are laid in at the end, headed "Tabula Capituli Generalis Intermedii Cismontani Toleti Celebrati. Anno 1583," the conclusion of which is wanting. Although relating to the Conference which promulgated the new Orders, it is very doubtful if these leaves were ever issued with this book. The part of the greatest interest to the American collector is the "Estatutos Generales de las Indias," commencing on the verso of folio 102.

* Very rare. Only this first volume was published, the author dying shortly after its publication. Father Florencía was a native of Spanish Florida, and after joining the Jesuits became a very distinguished member of the Order, being trusted with much of the secret and delicate work of the tribunal of the Inquisition. This history of the Jesuits is his rarest and most valuable work.

 * Only 420 printed of this first publication of the original manuscript by Mendieta. The author came to Mexico in 1554, and was appointed to the charge of the conventuals of Mexico, Puebla, and Tlaxcala. His history deals entirely with the doings of the Franciscans in Mexico. Having finished the manuscript, Mendieta entrusted it to Juan Bautista for publication. Bautista handed the commission to Torquemada, and for some reason it was never published until this time, when Icazbalceta included it in his reprints. The editor gives a long and interesting introduction, showing where Torquemada copied wholesale from the manuscript.

Extract from the Will of Edmond de Goncourt :

(Trans.)

“My wish is that my Drawings, my Prints, my Curiosities, my Books—in a word these things of art which have been the joy of my life—shall not be consigned to the cold tomb of a museum, and subjected to the stupid glance of the careless passer-by; but I require that they shall all be dispersed under the hammer of the Auctioneer, so that the pleasure which the acquiring of each one of them has given me shall be given again, in each case, to some inheritor of my own tastes.”

PREFATORY.

THE third part of the library of the late Bishop Hurst comprised in this catalogue completes that portion devoted particularly to American History and Literature.

While the second part included the special collections, like the New England Primers, the writings of the Mathers, and the American Languages, this section takes in all the remaining books relating directly or indirectly to America. A glance through the pages shows the interest and variety of the books described. First Editions of Nathaniel Hawthorne, Edgar Allan Poe, John G. Whittier, Henry W. Longfellow, Oliver Wendell Holmes and others—the best in the literature of our country—appeal specially to the collector of this class of books. Quite an extensive collection of the writings of Eugene Field will be found, and of other authors, many choice and rare examples.

For those to whom the history and progress of America have a greater attraction, a much larger choice is given. The field here is so extensive that a mere mention of some of the titles is all that is possible. Several items of great rarity relate to the Swedish settlements on the Delaware, among them being the original editions of Acrelius and Campanius, the rare pamphlet by Biorck, and the two excessively rare tracts by Usselinx which led to the founding of the colony. The other books include among them Smith's Virginia, 1627; Burk's Virginia, 4 vols; New England's First Fruits, 1643, the first that was published of those rare tracts known as the Eliot Indian Tracts; Monarde's Joyfull Newes out of the Newe Founde Worlde; an early edition of Peter Martyr Anghiera, which once belonged to the poet Southey, adding an associative value to the historic importance of the book; Lawson's Carolina, 1709; several rare early books relating to the founding of Georgia; an extensive collection of German imprints from Sower's and the Ephrata Presses; Ignatius Davis' view of the Genesee Country, with a MS. itinerary by the author; a complete set of the Pennsylvania Magazine, published by Robert Aitken and edited by Thomas Paine, which, as all collectors know, is of the utmost rarity in complete form ; some early imprints by William Bradford, including one printed in New York in 1700 ; Wesley's Sunday Service for the Methodists in North America, of which, as is pointed out in the description, there is a remarkable difference in the issues ; the extremely rare Proposed Prayer Book ; etc., etc.

The mention of only a few items like the above cannot fail to arouse in the mind of the student of American history the thought of the value to historical research of collectors like the late Bishop Hurst, who indefatigably delved through the dusty piles of the bookstores of both continents. Many an unconsidered pamphlet has thrown a brilliant light on some cloudy portion of history, and many items in the Hurst Collection can well be included in this category.

* EXTREMELY RARE WITH THE MAP. The author was a Dutch traveller, who also wrote a history of the French in Florida. This history of Peru ends with the death of Pizarro.

- 1488 ARFWEDSON (C. D.) De Colonia Nova Svecia in Americam Borealem deducta Historiola. Folding map. Small 4to, sewed, pp. (4), 34. UPSALIÆ [1825.]

* RARE. Contains a short notice (in Swedish) of the hostile attack made upon the Swedish Colonies in New Sweden by the Dutch under the command of Peter Stuyvesant in 1655; also a short biographical list of all the Swedish ministers in the American Colony.

- 1490 ARMINIAN MAGAZINE. The Arminian Magazine, consisting of Extracts and Original Treatises on General Redemption. Vols. I. and II. 8vo, original leather. PHILA.: 1789-90.

* This copy was originally owned by the famous Revolutionary patriot Isaac Shelby, and contains his autograph on the title of each volume. The magazine was founded on the first two vols. of Wesley's Magazine, a few contributions being omitted to make room for some original matter, including Bp. Asbury's Journal, which was first published in this magazine.

1491 ASBURY (FRANCIS). The Journal of Bishop Francis Asbury, from 1771 to 1815. 3 vols. in 6, half calf. (As 3 vols.) NEWYORK: 1821.

* The Preface is dated Southampton Co., Va., July 14, 1791. The compiler, "John Asplund, a Swede," says, "Having been brought up with a view of the business of merchandise, I have been accustomed to keeping accounts; and I now prefer accounts of souls set Zionward . . . I am convinced I could not spend my time better than in itinerating to preach the Gospel and to collect materials which may assist the future historian." The first published list of Baptists in America. The paper employed is of three different textures, showing the scarcity of paper in Virginia at that period.

Jacet en Andreas" + Tabla, 57 pp.] MADRID, 1723.
- * The name on the title is an anagram of the real author's name. This history is not confined to Florida and the Southern countries, as might be imagined from the title, but is a history of the whole of North America (Pennsylvania, New York, Acadia, etc.). The introduction contains a bibliography of the subject.
- 1504 BAYLEY (DANIEL). The Essex Harmony. Containing a Collection of Psalm Tunes. Engraved throughout, including Chippen-dale design on title by Paul Revere (?). 12mo, unbound, pp. 16 (one leaf missing at end). Printed and sold by the author in Newbury Port, 1772.

* Apparently a compilation from various books, that of the New Netherlands, for instance, being condensed from Van der Donck.
- 1510 BIBLE. The Holy Bible, containing the Old and New Testaments,—etc. 4to, old sheep. (Wanting the title, and the last leaf defective.) TRENTON: Isaac Collins, 1791.
* THE FIRST BIBLE PRINTED IN NEW JERSEY. The compositors of this Bible distinguished themselves by making a curious error in Luke's description of the Crucifixion, making the apostle say, "and there were also two other malefactors led with him"—a sad mistake for the pioneer New Jersey Bible. In some editions the Apocrypha was omitted; this one contains it. An interesting feature of this copy is that it contains the original ticket of the binder, Philip Weaver, of Germantown.
- 1511 BIBLE. The Holy Bible, containing the Old and New Testaments (and the Apocrypha). 4to, old sheep (worn). NEW YORK: Hodge & Campbell, 1792.
* Scarce early New York edition.
- 1512 BIBLE. The Holy Bible, containing the Old and New Testaments and Apocrypha, with Notes, Index, etc. With 5 maps and 25 engravings (one wanting and another torn). 4to, sheep. (Family register torn out). PHILA.: Mathew Carey, 1811.
- 1513 BIOGRAPHICAL PAMPHLETS. Transactions of the South Carolina Huguenot Society, No. 4, 1897 (the Legaré Family, etc.); Eleazer Williams, by W. W. Wight, portrait, 1896; Men of Early Rome (N. Y.), by D. E. Wager, 1879; Anti-Slavery Leaders of North Carolina, by J. S. Bassett, 1898; Andrew Bradford, Founder of the Newspaper Press in the Middle States, by H. G. Jones, 1869. 8vo, sewed. (5 pieces.)

- 1514 BIOGRAPHICAL PAMPHLETS. Lenau in America, by G. A. Mulfinger; Life and Labors of Peter Force, by A. R. Spofford, 1898; The Adventures of Isaac Jogues, S.J. [Canada, 1636-1646], by W. H. Withrow, 1885; and others. 8vo, sewed. (10 pieces.)
- 1515 BIORCK (TOBIAS). DISSERTATIO GRADUALIS DE PLANTATIONE ECCLESIAE SVECANÆ IN AMERICA. Folding map (Delineatio Pennsylvaniae et Casarea Nov. Occident seu West N. Jersey in America). Small 4to, sewed. [Collation: Title, Poem by the author, dedication in Latin, English preface signed Hessel, 4 leaves+pp. 34+fold-ing map. UPSALA [1731].
- * VERY RARE WITH THE MAP. The author was born in New Sweden, and in this pamphlet gives a history of the founding of the Swedish Church, a description of the country, and notices of some of the early pastors. A curious woodcut is given in the chapter describing the Indians, of the native idea of the Manitou. The poetical dedication by the author is a very amusing piece of composition in faulty English; the English preface, by Andrew Hessel, is much better written. The map bears the inscription of a Swedish engraver, but is evidently copied from an English source.
- 1516 ——— ANOTHER COPY. Sewed. (Wanting the map, somewhat stained, and name on title.)
- 1517 BISSELIUS (JOANNIS). Argonauticon Americanorum, sive, Historiæ Periculorum Petri de Victoria, S.J. Engraved title and map of America. 18mo, vellum. Fine copy. MONACHI (MUNICH), 1647.
- * First edition. A later edition was published in 1698. A narrative of the voyage, shipwreck and wanderings from Panama to Peru of Pedro Gouvea de Victoria. A statement has been made that the book is a work of fiction, but there seems little doubt from an examination that there was some basis for the original narrative. Harrisse quotes a Spanish edition of 1510, which is, of course, absurd.
- 1518 BISSET (ROBERT). History of the Reign of George III., to the termination of the late War. 6 vols. 8vo, sprinkled calf (slightly broken at edges). LONDON, 1803.
- * This copy formerly belonged to George IV., and bears the Royal Arms stamped in gilt on sides and back.
- 1519 BLEECKER (ANN ELIZA). The History of Maria Kittle, in a Letter to Miss Ten Eyck. 12mo, wooden boards, paper covered, pp. 72 (binding worn). HARTFORD: John Babcock, 1802.
- * RARE. Not in Wegelin's American Fiction. The subject of the story deals with the Indians, the heroine being captured by the savages and carried into captivity. In the Revolution the authoress suffered severe hardships in avoiding the British army, and no doubt her story is founded on her experiences during that period. The letters are dated from Tomhanick, 1779, where she died in 1783.

1520 BLOCK (BISHOP). Rimelig Formodning at de Oprindelige Amerikanere nedstamme fra en Mongolisk Act. (Reasonable conjectures that the primitive Americans descended from the Mongols.) Post 8vo, paper wrappers, pp. 37. KJÖBENHAVN, 1804.

* Contains valuable information regarding the population and general wealth of America, including which is a brief chronology from 1492-1806. The author was an interesting and noted character, participating in the French and Indian wars, the Siege of Louisburg, etc.; later he was a Judge in New Hampshire, where he built the canal that bears his name.

1522 BLOWERS (REV. THOMAS). The Deaths of Eminent Men, and Excellent Friends, very distressing to the Survivors, set forth in a Sermon preached at Salem Village (Mass.), Dec. 4, 1715, occasioned by the death of the Rev. * Bears on title the autograph of Rev. Thomas Foxcroft, who was Pastor of the Old Church in Boston, and who later [1729] preached the Rev. Mr. Blower's Funeral Sermon.

Also of interest as being the FIRST HEBREW GRAMMAR PUBLISHED IN AMERICA. The author was a Christianized Jew who was appointed Professor of Hebrew at Harvard in 1722, holding that position for 30 years.

The latter is in original paper covers, with view of Faneuil Hall. The volume containing the numbers from Jan. to Aug., 1785, inclusive, lacks pp. 147–150, and a large portion of pp. 267–8 is torn off. This volume contained no illustrations. In all, 23 numbers (2 bound vols. and 2 issues, unbound). 8vo. BOSTON, 1783–1785. (As 3 vols.)

5 pp.; Part II., 326 pp., inclusive of title + Tavola and Registro, 23 pp.] FERRARA: Benedetto Mammarelli, 1592-1593.

* Scarce. The author was a noted Italian political and economic writer, Secretary to St. Charles Borromeo, and in this first edition criticised France so severely that the book was suppressed. The "Relationi Universali" is a comparative view of the whole world—Europe, Asia, Africa and America (or the New-World), with many interesting criticisms and opinions. The part dealing with the New-World commences on page 350 of the first part and extends to page 412, then begins a description of the Islands of the World, including the Philippines, Japan, The Solomon Islands, New Guinea, West Indies, etc. The second part deals with the forms of government, and the fourth book is entirely occupied with the Spanish kingdoms in the New World, including America (mentioning Drake's capture of Carthage only six years before), the Philippines, etc.

* Excessively rare. The only book printed in New York before 1700 that contained more than 20 pages. The advertisement reads as follows: "The Reader is desired to take notice that the Press in Boston is so much under the aw of the Reverend Author, whom we answer, and his Friends, that we could not obtain of the Printer there to print the following Sheets, which is the only true Reason why we have sent the Copy so far for its Impression and where it [is] printed with some Difficulty."

The names of the Authors are written in ink on the title.

- 1552 BRADFORD IMPRINT. A Further Account of God's Dealings with the Rev.  * Apart from the interest of its being an early Boston imprint, a greater interest and value attach to it from its being originally in the possession of David Brainerd, the celebrated missionary to the Indians. On the front end paper he has written the inscription "David Brainerd's Book, 1742" in a small, neat writing. A Mary Brainerd, who was probably his sister, has embellished the same page with her name repeated several times. David Brainerd's autograph is extremely rare.

- 1939 LONGFELLOW (HENRY W.) Evangeline: a Tale of Acadie. 8vo, finely bound by W. PRATT in full dark red rough-grained morocco gilt. With solander case in morocco. BOSTON, 1848.
 * FIRST EDITION ON LARGE PAPER. EXTREMELY RARE. The first 12mo edition was published in 1847, this Large Paper copy, of which very few were issued, was published shortly afterwards with the date 1848. Both Arnold and Foote, who spent much money and time in completing the works of American authors in their libraries, were unable to obtain a copy, and their collections were dispersed without it. Evangeline is the scarcest of the works of Longfellow, and is rapidly increasing in value and in rarity, as the few copies in existence get locked up in the libraries of collectors; some day it may be as difficult to obtain as Whittier's Moll Pitcher or Poe's Tamerlane.
 THIS COPY IS A PRESENTATION COPY FROM LONGFELLOW, WITH HIS INSCRIPTION INSIDE AND DATE 1848. BOUND IN ALSO IS A CABINET PHOTOGRAPH OF THE AUTHOR, WITH HIS AUTOGRAPH AND DATE 1880. A very trifling inkstain just touches the margins of a few leaves at the end.

ON THE FLY-LEAF IS A DRAFT, IN DICKENS' HANDWRITING, OF A LETTER WHICH HIS SECRETARY WAS TO COPY. WRITTEN IN PENCIL, WHILE IN CINCINNATI, AND ADDRESSED TO THE PROPRIETOR OF THE "NEILL HOUSE," COLUMBUS:

"I am requested by Mr. Charles Dickens to inform you that he is coming to Columbus . . . on Thursday—and that he proposes resting that day and night . . . preparatory to going on to Sandusky on Friday morning. He will be greatly obliged . . . if you will have the goodness to prepare comfortable quarters for him . . . and to say (in case any inquiries should be made on the subject) that he will not be able to receive any visitors in Columbus, as his short stay is one of rest, of which both himself and Mrs. Dickens stand in need, as they have for some weeks been constantly travelling. The accommodations we shall require, are a comfortable private parlor and bedroom adjoining—or as near to it as convenient—another sleeping chamber for myself—and another for Mrs. Dickens' maid."

In this connection, it is interesting to note a short quotation from Dickens' "American Notes"—"excellent apartments in a very large unfinished hotel called the Neill House, which were richly fitted with the polished wood of the black walnut, and opened on a handsome portico and stone verandah, like rooms in some Italian mansion . . ."

 * The Weyrauchs-Hügel was the first book printed in German type in America, and the first book from the press of Sower. In a rather curious way it led to the establishment of the Ephrata Press. Conrad Beissel wrote many of the hymns, and Sower accused him of alluding to himself in the 37th verse of the 400th hymn, which, literally translated, is:

"Look! look! look! Look! look upon the man;

He is heard by God. He is our Lord and Christ," whereupon Beissel replied that he was a fool. This enraged Sower, who printed a slanderous pamphlet about Beissel, and the result of the widening breach was a new press at Ephrata. Christina Hoehn wrote the hymns on pp. 456 and 465.

The headings are fantastic in the extreme. As the edition was small and the book in constant use for devotional purposes, nearly all of the few known copies are imperfect. The present copy lacks pp. 291-302 and pp. 723-734. There is an autograph of Peter Sauer, 1817, on the fly-leaf.

* Edwin M. Stanton's copy, with pencil minute of a Cabinet meeting May 23, 1867. It will be remembered that he took no prominent part in the controversy between President Johnson and the Cabinet in regard to reconstruction. He incurred the enmity of the President and was asked to resign shortly after this meeting, but declined to do so. In his pencil notice he says, "I differ from the whole opinion except the points," etc. Laid in are various orders from Military Headquarters at Richmond, New Orleans, etc., regulating the voting in reconstruction times.

* RARE. The first book known to be written by Willem Usselinx. At the time this was written the first steps were being taken by both the Dutch and Spanish authorities to conclude peace. As the title indicates, Usselinx was regarding the negotiations with the eye of the merchant, bearing constantly in mind the great project of a Dutch West India Company, in which he had then been for some years endeavoring to interest the merchants of Holland. This pamphlet was written to urge the Dutch negotiators to include the southern provinces in the favored terms they expected to get for themselves. Usselinx points out the value to the whole of Holland in such a case, of the City of Antwerp, should it get favored terms without restrictions of trade.

- 2344 USSELINX (WILLEM). OCTROY ELLER PRIVILEGIUM SOM THEN STORMECHTIGSTE HOGBORNE FURSTE OCH HERRE HERR GUSTAFF ADOLPH—THET SWENSKA NYVS UPRATTADHE SODER COMPAGNIET NADIGST HAFWER GIFWIT OCH BEBREFWAT. * "Patent or Privileges granted by Gustavus Adolphus to the New South Company." EXTREMELY RARE. THE ORIGINAL SWEDISH EDITION. Willem Usselinx, the most active promoter of the Dutch West India Company, getting tired of the dilatoriness of the Dutch Merchants and Staats-General, carried his project to Gustavus Adolphus. That famous soldier seized eagerly on the idea, and granted Usselinx this charter for a company. This was the foundation of the Swedish settlements on the Delaware; for though the project was not immediately carried through, it led eventually to the expedition and settlement by Peter Minuit. It is doubtful if more than one or two copies of this original Swedish issue exists and not one we believe in America. Laid in is an autograph letter by Wilberforce Eames of the Lenox Library referring to its extreme scarcity.

STOCKHOLM: Ignatio Meurer, 1626.

* "Full Account of the Trading Agreement granted to the South Company by the King of Sweden." THE ORIGINAL SWEDISH EDITION, OF THE GREATEST RARITY, PUBLISHED FROM USSELINX'S DUTCH MS. AND ONE YEAR BEFORE THE DUTCH EDITION.

This is Usselinx's explanatory pamphlet on the South Company, pointing out equally to the Swedes, Dutch and Germans the advantages to be gained from the Patent granted by Gustavus Adolphus. An important part is that in which he describes the country on the Delaware, its suitability for a colony, its fertility, etc. This pamphlet was issued but a short time after the granting of the Patent, being dated in the address to the reader on the back of the title 2 July, 1626, while the Patent was signed by Gustavus 14 June, 1626, barely three weeks before. Laid in is also a letter by Wilberforce Eames pointing out its great rarity, and that only four other copies are known. RIGHTLY THIS AND THE PRECEDING PAMPHLET MAY BE CALLED THE CAUSE OF THE FIRST SWEDISH SETTLEMENT IN AMERICA. [See illustration.]

* IT IS APPARENTLY UNKNOWN TO BIBLIOGRAPHERS THAT THERE WERE TWO DISTINCT ISSUES OF THE FIRST EDITION. THIS IS AN EXAMPLE OF THE FIRST ISSUE, AND BOTH THE FIRST ISSUE AND THE SECOND, WHICH FOLLOWS IN THE NEXT LOT, ARE OF EXTREME RARITY.

The history of this edition of the first American Methodist Ritual is somewhat obscure. Wesley apparently prepared and had printed some copies of the book before he had fully decided what course to pursue as to the appointment of Bishops for America. In September, 1784, he determined to send Dr. Coke and others to America, and recommended this service to them and to the American Methodists. For this purpose he had a short preface of one page printed and inserted in some copies, but one or two must evidently have been sent over before Dr. Coke left England, of which this is one.

The alterations that were made in the second edition are of much interest. In the Morning Prayers that for the Supreme Rulers reads in the first: "We beseech thee . . . to behold the Supreme Rulers of these United States, and so replenish," etc.; in the second edition this is changed to "the Rulers of these United States, the Congress, the General Assemblies, the Governors, and the Councils of States; and so replenish," etc. The Articles of Religion that numbered XXIII. in the second edition, and declaring that "The Congress," etc., are the Rulers of the United States, is in the first edition entirely omitted. The Articles number 24 instead of 25.

- 2404 — THE SECOND ISSUE OF THE FIRST EDITION, HAVING BOUND WITH IT THE "MINUTES OF CONVERSATIONS BETWEEN THE REV. THOMAS COKE, THE REV. FRANCIS ASBURY AND OTHERS—COMPOSING A FORM OF DISCIPLINE FOR—THE METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH IN AMERICA." PRINTED IN PHILADELPHIA IN 1785; ALSO CONTAINING AT THE END "PSALMS AND HYMNS FOR THE LORD'S DAY, BY JOHN AND CHARLES WESLEY, PRINTED IN LONDON IN 1784." A COPY OF WESLEY'S LETTER TO COKE AND ASBURY IS INSERTED AT THE FRONT, WHICH WAS ALSO PRINTED IN PHILA. ABOUT THE SAME TIME. 12mo, in the original binding but much worn (the pages of the Psalms from 95 to the end are wanting, and Wesley's preface has been supplied in writing). LONDON: PRINTED IN THE YEAR MDCCLXXXIV.

* This second issue of the first edition has several material alterations. The principal of these is in the Service for the Baptism of Infants, where, after the minister is instructed to dip his hand in the water and say, "I baptize," etc., follows instructions to make the sign of the cross on the child's forehead. This is entirely left out in the first issue and in the second and later editions. Also, in the Communion Service directions are given as to the minister breaking the bread, etc., which are omitted in the first issue, and only partly restored in the second edition. Several other alterations occur which make an interesting study of these two issues of the first edition.

The Discipline bound herewith is the first American publication of this.

- 2405 — THE SECOND EDITION OF THE SAME, HAVING BOUND WITH IT "A COLLECTION OF PSALMS AND HYMNS FOR THE LORD'S DAY, BY JOHN AND CHARLES WESLEY." 12mo, bound in half red morocco. Good copy. LONDON, 1786.

Extract from the Will of Edmond de Goncourt :

(Trans.)

“My wish is that my Drawings, my Prints, my Curiosities, my Books—in a word these things of art which have been the joy of my life—shall not be consigned to the cold tomb of a museum, and subjected to the stupid glance of the careless passer-by; but I require that they shall all be dispersed under the hammer of the Auctioneer, so that the pleasure which the acquiring of each one of them has given me shall be given again, in each case, to some inheritor of my own tastes.”

PREFATORY.

WITH this Fourth Part is completed the dispersal of the library of the late Bishop John F. Hurst. Endowed as the Bishop was with the double qualities of collector and student, there naturally remain, after the selecting the more numerous groups of subjects, a number of special subjects not large enough in number—though valuable in interest—to occupy a special catalogue, and which have to be classed amongst the miscellaneous. The more important of these are the Incunabula and Early Printed Books, editions of Thomas A'Kempis, books valued for their associations, the Bibles, Bibliography, issues of the First Protestant Press at Wittemberg, Theology, etc. The remarkable collection of autograph letters and manuscripts, the result of many years' patient gathering, occupies in a separate division the greater part of one whole session.

As one would expect, the Theology forms an important part of this catalogue. Perhaps there are not many of them that would attract the collector whose sole aim is merely to gather rare books, it being essentially a working library, comprising treatises exegetical, doctrinal and historical; books on the dogmas and creeds of the various peoples of Europe, including the scarce and important work of J. M. Neale on the Holy Eastern or Greek Church; with excursions in the direction of the religious beliefs of the Orient, the centralized creed of the Buddhist and the polytheistic beliefs of the Brahman.

Briefly dealing with the rest of the catalogue, we may point out the interesting and valuable collection of Incunabula, including a copy of Gutenberg's Catholicon, issues of Ulrich Zel's Press, in fine condition; examples of Wendelin of Speier, Peter Schoffer, etc. The English Presses include three copies of Caxton's Polycronycon—to think of one man being able to get three copies of a Caxton!—with specimens of Wynkyn de Worde, Pynson and Peter Treveris. The other early Presses include many interesting items.

Among the other subjects are Bibliography, a choice and well-selected collection; the Association Books, including Nathaniel Hawthorne's copy of Shakespeare, Southey's copy of Palmerin of England, Dr. Johnson's copy of Dryden's Virgil, presentation copies from Charles Dickens and books from his library, Melancthon's Horace and Bible, and others connected in some degree with names famous in literature ; extra-illustrated books ; a first edition of Milton's Paradise Lost ; a curious collection of miniature books ; Oriental and Chained Manuscripts ; Examples of the Basle Presses, with titles designed by Holbein, as likewise of the Lutheran Press at Wittemberg, with the beautiful title-pages by Lucas Cranach, one of them having his famous portrait of Martin Luther ; and many other subjects too numerous to mention here—all of interest and value.

The Autograph and Manuscript collection was one of the special features of Bishop Hurst's library. Not for years past has such a remarkable collection of important letters written by George Washington (to Richard Henry Lee, Benjamin Harrison, Governor Brooke, Lund Washington, etc.,) been offered for public competition. Apart from the Washington letters are fine ones by Franklin, Francis Hopkinson, Gen. Gates, Lafayette (to Patrick Henry), Abraham Lincoln, Count Zinzendorf, and many others almost equal in importance to those historic names. The manuscripts include the famous Pote Journal, discovered by Bishop Hurst while travelling in Europe, and later published ; manuscripts of Washington Irving, Samuel Taylor Coleridge, the "Epicurean" by Thomas Moore, Sir Walter Scott's "History of Scotland," Edgar Allan Poe's "Tamerlane" and other poems in his autograph, James Fenimore Cooper, Eugene Field, etc., etc.

The Engravings, though small in number, represent the work of many of the famous engravers, some of them being rare.

Folio I. commences: Epl' a bti Hieronymi psbyteri ad Cromaciū et Eliodōr epōs de libris Salomonis. The Book of Proverbs to the end of the Old Testament, including the books of the Apocrypha and the whole of the New Testament. Wanting the last leaf and also some leaves of the Table of Hebrew words. A few leaves supplied from a slightly smaller copy. Printed in double columns, 48 lines to each. No catchwords, pagination, or signatures. 229 leaves of text + 21 of Table. Capitals very finely painted in red and blue. Stamp of the Bibliothèque Royale on first folio. Last leaf of text supplied in MS. PARIS: Freyburger, Gering and Crantz, circa 1475 or 1476.
* VERY RARE. An example of the first Paris Press and OF THE FIRST BIBLE PRINTED IN FRANCE. Although a portion of the Old Testament is wanting, the greater part of the Bible still remains. These three printers, at the invitation of the Prior of the Sorbonne, established their Press within its walls in 1470, removing, three years later, into the Rue St. Jacques. From there they issued their finest-printed books, of which this is a good example. The characters are of the Roman type, but modelled in imitation of the best manuscripts of the period, with rubricated headings to each book, forming a beautiful specimen of typography. The exact date does not appear in any perfect copy, but there is no doubt that it was either at the end of the year 1475 or the beginning of 1476. A signature appears to the sheets of the table at end, and it is considered by many authorities that these are the first sheets ever printed with signatures.

Folio, without catchwords, pagination or signatures, printed in GOTHIC LETTER, double columns, 51 lines to each, 467 leaves, capitals painted by hand. Bound in full panelled calf (joints broken). NUREMBERG: Koburger, 1477.
* A remarkably fine clean copy of the second Koburger Bible.

- 2555 SORG (ANTON—OF AUGSBURG.) BIBLIA GERMANICA. Folio I. Register; folio 2 commences: Hie hebt an die vorrede oder die epistel des hailigē priesters sant Jheronimi zu paulinum von allen götlichen hystorien der bücher under der biblen. Colophon reads: Die hat gedrucket un volbracht Anthoni sorg [1477]. Folio, without catchwords, pagination, or signatures, printed in double columns of 54 and 56 lines, 542 leaves. Illustrated with 67 curious woodcuts, some repeated, large woodcut capitals. Three leaves trimmed close, the first and last leaf mounted, and a little writing on a few of the margins, but a good clean copy. Bound in old sheep, worn. AUGSBURG: Sorg, 1477.

* Curious and rare edition.

- 2556 NICOLAUS GOTZ—OF COLOGNE. BIBLIA LATINA. (Proverbs to end of Old Testament only.) Printed in GOTHIC LETTER, double columns of 41 lines, without catchwords, signatures, or pagination, 337 folios, capitals painted in. Folio, oak boards covered with stamped leather (binding damaged). From the Kloss Library. [COLOGNE: Nicolaus Gotz, 1478.]

- 2557 JENSON (NICOLAS—OF VENICE). BIBLIA LATINA. Folio a1 (blank leaf, wanting). Folio a2 commences: Incipit epl'a sãcti Hieronymi ad paulinum pbrm de õib divine historie libris. Colophon reads: Biblia Ipressa A Venetiis opera atqz impēsa Nicolai Jenson Gallici MCCCCLXXIX. Folio printed in GOTHIC LETTER, double columns of 51 lines each, without pagination. 451 folios. With the Register, bound in full vellum. VENICE: Jenson, 1479.

* Jenson's second edition, and considered a better specimen of his typography than the first. Some margins have notes written on them, but with this exception it is a fine clean copy, with wide margins. The capital letters painted in by hand, and the capital on first folio very handsomely illuminated in gold. The arms of the original owner also on the same page, executed in gold and colors.

An interesting feature about this copy is that at some time it must have been examined by the Inquisition, for at the bottom of folio 1 is a written certificate that it may be read, signed Pisauri. The Inquisition took very active steps in the early part of the 16th Century, when the first threatenings of the Reformation were heard, to supervise all the publishers and booksellers in Venice, and also those who might have a library in which heretical books might be found. This, no doubt, is a relic of those stormy times.

- 2558 [AMERBACH (JOHANN—OF BASLE).] BIBLIA LATINA. Folio a1 (blank, wanting). Folio a2 has headline: Prologus in bibliam; column one commences: Incipit epistola beati Hieronumi ad Paulinū presbyterū de omnib divine historie libris. Without name of printer or place, double columns of 47 lines, small GOTHIC LETTER, no pagination or catchwords. Text 529 folios, followed by Rubric 8 ff., and Interpretationes 32 ff. (one leaf of the Inter. wanting and the blank leaf). Folio, oak boards covered with leather, brass clasp. 1482.

* Known as the Fontibus ex-Grecis edition, from a short verse beginning with these words at the colophon on folio 529. They were printed at Basle by Johann Amerbach, and, although he issued no less than nine editions to 1489, they are all now scarce. The capital letters are painted in red and blue, the larger ones being finely executed. The New Testament has references in the margin.

- 2559 HERBORT (MAGISTER JOHANN—OF SELIGENSTAT). BIBLIA LATINA. Verse of a1 contains address of Francisci Moneliensis, a2 has headline "Prologus in bibliam, column I begins: Incipit epistola beati Hieronymi, etc. Printed in double columns of 58 lines, small GOTHIC LETTER, without pagination or catchwords. 398 folios, including Registrum of 32 ff. - 2560 FROBEN (JOHANN—OF BASLE). Folio AA I, title, Biblia Integra; summata; distincta; accuratius reemēdata; utriusque testamenti cōcordantiis illustrata. Verso of folio BB4 has the device of Froben. Printed in double columns of 54 lines, small GOTHIC LETTER, without catchwords or pagination, 507 leaves. (A few leaves stained and a tear or two in the margins, but not touching the text.) Also a few marginal notes written in. Thick 12mo, old leather (wanting the back). Finit Johannem froben de Hambelburgk, 1495.

* The second edition of Froben's small Bible. The first, published in 1491, was the first small Bible printed.

- 2561 HIERONYMUS DE PAGANINIS—OF BRESCIA. BIBLIA LATINA. Folio A1, title "Biblia," with large woodcut of St. Peter, followed by 9 leaves of Historiarum. Folio a1, first column, begins: Incipit epistola beati Hieronymi, etc. Three lines rubricated. Printed in double columns, small GOTHIC LETTER, without pagination or catchwords. 514 leaves of 54 lines to a column. 12mo, half calf, gilt. Fine copy. Impresso vero in felici Venetorum—Hieronymi de Paganinis Brixienis, 1497.

* One of the earliest of the small Bibles.

- 2562 BIBLE IN BOHEMIAN. FIRST HUSSITE BIBLE. Biblij Czeska. With woodcuts. (Badly imperfect.) Folio, 16th Century pigskin, with arms impressed (back repaired). Sold with all faults. VENICE: P. Liechtenstein, 1506.

* Very rare.

- 2563 CRATANDER (ANDREW—OF BASLE). VETUS TESTAMENTUM—item ex Athanasio fragmētū, de libris utriusq; testamētī D. Eras. Rot. interp. Volumen prius, continens libros legis et historiarum. Thick 12mo, old oak boards covered with leather (repaired; wants one leaf near end). BASLE: And. Cratander, 1522.

* With Froben's device.

- 2564 BIBLIA PAUPERUM. An imperfect copy of the Italian Biblia Pauperum, published by Giannandrea Valvassore, in Venice, about 1532. Containing 27 leaves (54 pages, with woodcut and descriptive text on each). 12mo, full morocco (corners of a few leaves repaired). [VENICE, circa 1532.]

* Inside is written a note by Henry Stevens comparing it with the British Museum copy.

- 2565 VENICE, 1541. NOVI TESTAMENTI vulgata quidem æditio, etc. 16mo, vellum. (Margins of a few leaves damaged.) VENICE: P. Schoeffer, 1541.

- 2566 PARIS, 1541. SANCTUM JESU CHRISTI evangelium, et Acta Apostolorum (cum Epistolæ et Apocalypsis). Numerous quaint woodcuts, engraved by the same artist as those in Matthew's (John Rogers') Edition of Tyndale, 1549. 16mo, original vellum (binding loose). PARIS: P. Regnault, 1541.

* Rare and quaint edition, much scarcer than the one of 1542. The devil in one of the cuts is dressed as a monk, holding a rosary.

- 2567 VENICE, 1548. BIBLIA Utriusque Testamenti—cum collatione multorum, indice Epistolarum, etc. Thick 12mo, old leather. VENICE: Ad Signum spei, 1548.

- 2568 MATTHEW'S BIBLE. THE BIBLE, THAT IS TO SAY ALL THE HOLY SCRIPTURES: IN WHYCH ARE CŌTAINED THE OLDE AND NEW TESTAMENT . . . ETC. IMPRYNTED AT LONDON BY IHON DAYE, DWELLING AT ALDRSGATE, AND WILLIAM SERES, DWELLING IN PETER COLLEGE, 1549. Illustrated with woodcuts. Small folio, calf antique (worn). LONDON, 1549.

* This is wrongly lettered on the back as being Taverner's Bible of 1549, but it is Matthew's of the same date. Matthew is a pseudonym for John Rogers the Martyr, who suffered six years after the publication of this edition. The version is mainly Tyndale and Coverdale's, and is popularly known as the Bug Bible, but several about this date have the same reading. This edition is particularly rare, and might rather be called the Improper or Objectionable Bible. Edmund Becke, who edited it, added a number of peculiar notes, which appear in no other, and were, there is no doubt, omitted for evident reasons. One of the most objectionable is to Matthew XIX.; another recommends that a man should "beate the feare of God" into his wife; others attack the Prelacy and the monks. The title and preliminary leaves wanting, and folios 47, 48 of the first part, 81 to 83 of the second, and 73, 76 of the fourth. The New Testament wants folios 25 to 30, and 117 to 123. On the whole, it is a fair copy of an extremely scarce edition.

- 2569 COVERDALE'S BIBLE. The whole Byble, that is the holy scripture of the Olde and Newe testament faythfully translated into Englyshe by Myles Coverdale. The second foreign edition of Coverdale's English Bible, printed at Zurich by Christopher Froschouer in 1550. Wanting the title and all folios to No. 64, from there contains folios 65 to 120, 129 to 160, 185 to 207, 258 to 314, 315 has part torn off, 316 to 494, ending the Old Testament, then New Testament folios 1 to 56, 57 half torn off, 58 to 104, and another leaf further on. Wanting from the 2nd Epistle of Peter to end. (Poor copy, many leaves stained and edges worn.) 4to, modern velvet on oak boards. Sold with all faults. ZURICH, 1550.

* It is nearly as difficult to obtain a complete copy of this edition as of the first.

- 2570 LYONS, 1561. TESTAMENTI NOVI. Editio Vulgata. Numerous woodcuts. 18mo, old marbled calf, gilt. LUGDUNI [Lyons]: Guliel. Rovillium, 1561.

- 2571 BISHOP'S BIBLE. EDITED by Abp. PARKER. An imperfect copy of one of the editions, probably that of 1575, wanting many leaves, and many of the remaining ones worn at the margin. Folio, old calf (repaired). Sold with all faults.

* One of the Treacle Bibles. The absence of the leaves which would distinguish this edition makes it difficult to identify exactly, but it is not one of the first two.

- 2572 GENEVAN BIBLE. La Bible, qui est toute la Saincte Escriture du Vieil et du Nouveau Testament. Thick crown 8vo, original old calf, gilt edges. GENEVA, 1588.

* At the end is bound the version of the Psalms by Clement Marot and Theodore Beza, published in Geneva, 1587, with the music.

- 2573 FIRST ICELANDIC BIBLE. Bibliapad Er, oll Heilog Ritning utlögð a Norraenu. The Old Testament and Apocrypha only (badly imperfect). Folio, contemporary leather, rebacked. Sold with all faults. HOLUM. 1584.

Colophon reads: "AND HERE I MAKE AN ENDE OF THIS LYTEL WERKE AS NYGH AS I CAN FYNDE AFTER THE FORME OF THE WERK TO FORE MADE BY RANULPH MONK OF CHESTRE . . . ENDED THE SECOND DAY OF JUJLL THE XXII YERE OF THE REGNE OF KYNGE EDWARD THE FOURTH AND OF THE INCARNACION OF OUR LORD A THOUSAND FOUR HONDERD FOURE SCORE AND TWEYNE. FYNYSSED PER CAXTON." Collation (as the printed pagination errs many times, the collation is given by the sheets). Commencing with sheet 8, sig. 2, folio 57. Sheet 20 wants sigs. 4, 5; 23 wants sig. 5; 26 wants sig. 8; 29 wants sig. 1; 41 wants sigs. 3, 4; 45 wants sig. 7; ends with folio 367 (sheet 46, 5). TALL COPY MEASURING  $10\frac{1}{8}$  in. BY  $8\frac{1}{4}$  in. Wants binding. W. Caxton, 1482.

* VERY RARE. The increasing number of rich collectors, who have apparently been determined to get the productions of the presses of the earliest printers, has resulted in a surprising advance in the value of Caxtons. Tall copies, even when imperfect, have within only a very recent time been fetching prices that a few years ago it was thought ridiculous to give for complete copies. But when it is considered that these books are the cornerstones of a choice collection, and that without them no gathering together of later publications can in any way be considered worthy of the name of a collection, there is seen to be an adequate reason for the increased values. These are indispensable, and must be had, and there can be no reasonable limit to their advance. Very few perfect copies of Caxton's Polycronycon are known, and a copy with as many leaves as the present is very rare, especially when with good margins. This copy is also evidently one of the earliest struck off by Caxton, as folio 227 is printed CCVII and is wrongly corrected to CCXXXIII in the other copies which follow.

Last leaf with colophon, and first leaf of Prohemye in facsimile. Text wormed a little, the top corner of the margins of two leaves torn off, and part of folio 226 in facsimile. A few margins written on. CONTAINING IN ALL 294 GENUINE LEAVES, MEASURING 10 $\frac{3}{8}$  in. by 7 $\frac{3}{8}$  in. Bound in full polished calf gilt. W. Caxton, 1482.

Precious Stones, Natural History, etc., etc. It is also the first book printed on English-made paper, referred to in the "Prohemium":

"And John Tate the yonger—
"Which late hathe in Englonde doo make this paper thynne
"That now in our englyssh this boke is prynted Inne."

Dibdin and many others consider it as the finest specimen of 15th Century English typography and paper.

Another reference in the "Prohemium" has led to much controversy. The lines are these:

"And also of your charyte call to remembrance
"The soule of William Caxton first pryter of this boke
"In latin tongue at Coleyn."

No Latin edition of this book is positively identified as printed by Caxton, but many attempts have been made, though according, to Blades, without success.

Shakespeare, also, is believed to have used it freely.

- 2841 WYNKEN DE WORDE. BRANDT (SEBASTIAN). The Shyppe of Fooles of this Worlde. [Translated by Henry Watson.] An imperfect copy, commencing at E2 and ending at FF2, with leaves missing between, and some repaired or defective. In all 119 original leaves, containing 66 of the woodcuts. Small 4to, old calf. LONDON: Wynkyn de Worde, 1517.

* Of the extremest rarity. A note inside states that only two perfect copies are known.

The Stultifera Navis is the first satire written in the German language, and which led to numerous imitations. The voyage of a ship is described, the passengers on board of which are typical representatives of all the follies and vices of the time. Some of the headings are: Of them that Wyll kepe Wyves; Of the Cure of Astronome (Astrologers); Of Beggars; Of Players of Instruments; Of Daunces and Dysportes; Of Folysshe Physycyens; Of the Voluptuousnes Corporall; etc. The quaint woodcuts add greatly to the interest of the book.

- 2842 ——— HILTON (WALTER). SCALA PERFECTIONIS. Woodcut on title of Christ standing beneath the cross, a monk kneeling beside him. Printed in GOTHIC LETTER, single columns of 33 lines. 156 folios. Finely bound in old straight-grained red morocco gilt, gilt edges (the joint of the first cover slightly cracked), with morocco slip-case. A very early autograph of Thomas Bowles on title, a trifling ink-mark on the margin of one page, and very slight burn in the margin of the last three leaves. LONDON: Imprynted by Wynkyn de Worde, 1533.

* Rare, and an exceptionally fine copy for a book of this date, with good margin, and clean. Old bookplate (written on) of John Liptrap on the inside of cover. [See illustration.]

- 2843 RICHARD PYNSON, LONDON. CAXTON'S DESCRIPTION OF ENGLAND. Title reads: "The descrypcyon of Englonde. Here foloweth a lytell treatise"—etc. Small folio, printed in GOTHIC LETTER, double columns of 47 lines. Woodcut view of a city on the title, and a few diagrams in the text. Wants folio Bi and B6, Ci and C6, and the first leaf of the last sheet. Short margin, and a few of the corners at the beginning and end gnawed away by mice, damaging a few letters of the text. Bound in old sprinkled calf gilt, russia back. With bookplate of Thomas Jolley (a noted book collector), and another bookplate [by BEWICK?]. [LONDON], flete strete at the sygne of the Gorge, 1510.

- 2844 ——— MANCINUS (DOMINICUS). Here begynneth a ryght frutefull treatyse intituled the myrrour of good manners—translated into English—by Alex. Barclay. Wanting the first two signatures and other leaves, and the corners of most of those remaining torn away. 32 leaves (should be 50). 4to, half calf. LONDON: R. Pynson, n. d. [circa 1510].

- 2846 PETER TREVERIS OF SOUTHWARK, LONDON.

ARNOLD'S CHRONICLE. Folio A2, commences: In this boke is contained ye names of the baylyfs Custose mayers and sherefs of ye cyte of london from the tyme of kynge Richard the fyrst & also the artycles of ye Chartour,—etc. Small folio, printed in GOTHIC LETTER, double columns of 41 and 42 lines. Wanting folios Bi, Ri, and after R7. Contains 114 folios of text (should be 134, Ai and U6 being blank). Corner margin of one leaf torn (text not touched), and somewhat soiled. Bound in old half russia. Bookplate of ——— Bateman. [SOUTHWARK: Peter Treveris, 1521.]

* RARE. This quaint book, which might fitly be called the first English Encyclopædia—containing history, gardening receipts, cooking receipts, legal forms, list of marvellous relics in various churches, duties on goods, etc.—is famous for the first appearance in print of the celebrated old English ballad known as "The Nut Browne Mayde," many times since reprinted, revised (and spoiled). The first edition, which is extremely rare, is supposed to have been printed at Antwerp by Adrian van Berghen, but this second edition continues the historical material to the date of publication. A contemporary owner, Robert Ayre, and a later one, John Hill, 1611, have handed their names to posterity in several places on the margins, and a binder has erroneously lettered it on the back as having been printed by Pynson in 1510.

ENGLISH PRESSES—Continued.

- 2847 ——— HIGDEN'S POLYCRONYCON. POLYCRONYCON. Title with large woodcut of St. George. * RARE. This edition is a literal reprint of Wynken de Worde's edition of Caxton, but with the addition of woodcuts. Wynken de Worde's was the first English book to contain music; this has it also. Apart from this and the preceding book very few productions of the press of Peter of Treves are known.

 * The title-page to the Paraphrase of St. John has a copper-engraved border by Hans Lützelburger, after Hans Holbein, representing a halberdier struck down by death as Fortune approaches, with figures above of Avarice, Prudence, Hope, etc. The device of Froben is also one of those designed by Holbein.

 * Besides the title two other woodcut borders occur, both in this and the two previous copies. It is interesting to compare the differences in the building up of these borders, no two of the copies agreeing. Froben's device does not occur in this particular copy, and apparently, was never published with it.

* The Manual de Adultos, of which only two leaves now in the National Library, Mexico, remain, is the first book known to be printed in the American continent. The printer was Juan Cromberger, the first printer in Mexico. It is believed an earlier book was issued from the same press, but no copy or fragment has yet been found. This facsimile is stained to resemble the original, and Bp. Hurst obtained and kept it as a curiosity, as also the following similar curiosities of forgery.

Christian virtues and beliefs, and this edition has a commentary by the famous Chancellor John Gerson.

The name of the printer—John Fabri—has given rise to much discussion, desperate attempts having been made to identify him with the first Danish printer. This Danish printer's name is given as John Snell. In 1495 a book was printed in Stockholm, and the printer is given as Johann Fabri. This Fabri, it is said, is only the Latin form of the word Smith; and as Snell means nearly the same, therefore they are one and the same person. Proctor also calls the printer of this book Johann Schmidt. Jean Faure (with slight variations of the spelling), a German, was printer and bookseller at Lyons at this period, and there can be very little doubt that Fabri is merely the Latin form of the same name, and there is no certain evidence to believe that his real name was Schmidt. The device on the title-page has led many into the error of imagining the book was printed by John Fust, and the original owner of the book, who had it so handsomely bound, was evidently of the same opinion, for it is lettered on the back "Floretus Virtutum—Mogun—Joh. Fust." Magnificent copy.

- 2972 MARTIN FLACH, STRASSBURG. ANGELUS DE CLAVASIO. Folio 1 commences:—Summa Angelica de casib<sup>s</sup> scientie per venerabile fratrem Angelū de clavasio pilata. The two bound in one volume, small 4to, vellum. (Margins of two or three pages written on, and a crudely colored coat of arms on verso of folio 2 of the first book. Wrongly lettered on the back.) last leaf has been torn, but nothing is wanting. MOGUNTIA [John Gutenberg], 1460.

It is superfluous to remark on the excessive rarity of examples of the press of the first printer, especially when in such condition as the present—with wide margins and clean. Only three books are known to be printed in the type Gutenberg used in this Catholicon.

Small 4to, old oak boards, leather back.

* Rubricated throughout, and with Rubricator's signature at end. Bound in at the end are 21 pages of Latin MS. on the sacraments, etc., with signature and date 1489.

2991 "R" PRINTER, STRASSBURG. DIONYSIUS DE BURGO. Folio 1 commences:—Incipit epistola super declaracione Valerii Maximi. Edita. a fratre dyonisio de Burgo sancti sepulcri ordinis fratrum heremitarum sancti Augustini. 370 folios, Roman letter, 36 lines to a page, without catchwords, pagination, signatures, name of printer, place, or date. Rubricated throughout and with headings to each page by the Rubricator, the large capital on folio 1 in four colors. Folio, handsomely bound in full calf antique, red edges. [STRASSBURG, circa 1470.]

* Examples from the Press of the "R" printer are of great rarity, and this is an exceptionally fine copy, some of the leaves having an uncut margin.

One of the problems of bibliography is, Who was the printer from whose press issued those few books containing a peculiar-shaped letter R? For many years they were attributed to John Mentelin, the first printer in Strassburg, but this theory is now completely given up, and for want of a name he is simply called the "R" printer. A study of the types does not help one much, for letters and contractions will be found that, on measurement, exactly correspond with those earliest printers—both in Italy and Germany—who flourished from 1460 to 1470, only a few letters being strikingly different.

This peculiar-shaped "R" is first met with in the superscription of the pax of the Assumption, executed in niello by Matteo Giovapni Dei for the Church of St. John, Florence, about 1460. This Florentine artist was an engraver and goldsmith of repute, and may have engraved the types for this printer. The series of books issued by the "R" printer is all undated, and only two dates can with any plausibility be affixed to them—1464 and 1473. In 1478 the peculiar "R" occurs again in a Papal Bull believed with authority to have been printed by Michael Greyff at Reutlingen, who may have become possessed of the original fount. That the earlier books of the "R" printer date from the infancy of printing is undoubted, and they must always rank among the rarest and most interesting specimens. With the exception of a few letters, the beautifully cut Roman type resembles the best and earliest of the type of Nicolas Jenson.

- 2992 "R" PRINTER. MAGNUS (JACOBUS). Colophon reads:—Zophihlogium editum a fratre Jacobi magni de Parisius ordinis heremitaꝝ sancti Augu. finit feliciter. Printed in Roman letter, long lines of 35 to the page, 217 folios, rubricated throughout. 4to, old calf gilt, binding in fine condition, with bookplate of Count Thomas Cajetani of Wegry Wegierski. [STRASBURG, no date—circa 1470.]

* Remarkably fine copy of a rare book. The printer was once considered as being John Mentelin, but it is now ascribed to the "R" printer.

- 2993 FRANZ RENNER OF HEILBRONN AND NICOLAUS OF FRANKFORT, VENICE. MARCHESINUS. MAMMETRACTUS. Printed in GOTHIC LETTER, double columns of 39 lines. Small 4to, limp vellum (slightly wormed in the margin, and lacking two leaves in the Legenda Sanctorum). VENICE, 1476.

Folio, printed in double columns, small GOTHIC LETTER, with out pagination or catchwords. Floriated capitals, painted by hand. In the original leather-covered oak boards (binding repaired, and the bottom margins of many leaves damaged by damp). VENICE: Rinaldus de Novimagio, 1484.

* Gregory the Great's Moralium on Job. The first capital letter on folio c2 is finely illuminated in gold and colors, and the same leaf contains the arms of the original owner, also finely illuminated.

2998 JACOMO DE ROSSI, VENICE. ARETINO [LEONARDI BRUNI], Historia Fiorentina, tradotta da Donato Acciaiuoli, 217 folios; POGGIO [BRACCIOLINI], Historia Fiorentina, tradotta da Jacopo suo figliuolo, 115 folios. Roman letters, long lines, 41 to the page. Folio, half russia, gilt. A few MS. notes on the margins. VENICE: Jacomo de Rossi, 1476.

3000 PETER SCHOFFER, MAINZ. SECOND PRESS. GREGORY

IX. Folio 1 commences:—Incipit nova cōpilatio decretalium gregorii IX. Printed in GOTHIC LETTER, text in two columns in centre of page surrounded by a double-column commentary [by Bernhard Bottoni], 304 folios, the commentary numbering 81 full lines to the page, capital letters painted in red and blue, and contents of the chapters rubricated at the top of each folio. A finely-executed drawing in several colors on folio 1 of Pope Gregory seated at a reading-

desk with an open book. Index in contemporary handwriting (possibly by the rubricator) on the first two blank leaves. Some MS. notes on the margins. Fine copy, uncut, with the point holes. Large folio, bound in full calf (a little worn at the joints). MAINZ: P. Schöffer, 1473.

* Fine copy of one of the large productions of Schöffer's press, and one of the Monuments of Printing. The text printed with the same type as the rare Fust and Schöffer Bible of 1462. First edition of the Decretals with a date.

On the verso of the last folio occur several short Latin verses in praise of the invention of printing and of books. The fifth is the most important, being the lines which speak of those two Johns, both of Mainz, first producers of books, with whom came Peter shortly after, superior to them; also mentioning Master Francis the compositor, and "Myself who cleared the text of errors." The writer of these lines was John Brunner, author of a Latin grammar which Schöffer printed in 1468, and who was employed by the printer as proofreader. The two Johns are, of course, John Gutenberg and John Fust, the Peter who surpassed them both being Peter Schöffer, the printer of this book.

- 3001 PETER SCHOFFER. TURRECREMATA (JOHAN DE). Expositio Psalteri. Small folio. Printed in bold GOTHIC LETTER, single columns of 35 and 36 lines, initials painted by hand in red and blue, colophon printed in red, with Schöffer's device of two shields. Contemporary inscription at beginning and end, showing the book originally belonged to the Monastery of "St. Dorothea, virgin and martyr" (Vienna?). Bound in vellum. Fine copy, with broad margins. Clean (with the exception of a slight stain on the back margin of a few leaves). Folios 2 [of dedication] + 171. MOGÜTIE imp̃ssa—petru Schoyffer de gernszhem, 1474.

* RARE, and a fine specimen of Schöffer's press. The verses of the Psalms that precede each chapter of the Commentary are printed in the small type used in the Psalters of 1457 and 1459. Schöffer printed two editions of this, of which this is the earliest and finest. The centre sheet of many of the signatures is strengthened with a strip from an old manuscript—a practice adopted by the earliest binders—and the probability is that the binding may be the original as issued by Schöffer himself.

- 3002 — Folio 1 commences:—Incipit Dyalogus qui vocatur Scrutinium scriptuarū. cōpositus p Reverendū patrē dominum Paulū de Sancta maria. 217 folios, printed in GOTHIC LETTER, single column of 39 lines, no catchwords, pagination or signatures. Folio, old sprinkled calf, gilt backs. Margins of many leaves touched by damp, and some corners repaired, the bottom half of the last leaf supplied; the upper half contains the colophon, which is intact. Large margins. Rubricated throughout. MAINZ: P. Schöffer, 1478.

* The first 6 lines of folio 1, and the colophon with Schöffer's device of two shields, are printed in red. Contains the blank leaf at folio 72. Rare with this.

INCUNABULA—Continued.

- 3003 OTTAVIANO SCOTTO, VENICE. AUGUSTINI. De Civitate Dei. Printed in GOTHIC LETTER, double columns, text printed in centre, with commentary surrounding it. Folio a1 on reverse has large woodcut in two compartments, the upper showing St. Augustine writing, the lower showing two cities, angels on the top of the one, devils on the other, verses beneath. Stamp and signature of an old Carthusian monastery on folio a2. Scotto's device at end. Folio, boards, vellum back. VENICE: Impensis Oct. Scoti, 1489.

* Scotto was more of a bookseller than printer, his books being mostly printed for him by Bonatus Locatellus, this being one of them.

- 3004 EUCHARIUS SILBER OR FRANCK, ROME. CAMPANUS (JO. ANT.) Tractatus, Orationes, Historia Brachii, Epigrammatum, etc. Printed in long lines, Roman letters. Woodcut on title, and last folio but one has a large emblematic engraving. Thick folio, original boards covered with pigskin, stamped with numerous medallions of angels and a rose. (Clasps wanting, and margins of some leaves stained.) ROME: Euchar. Silber, 1495.

* Campanus rose from a shepherd boy to be the confidant of two Popes—Paul II. and Sixtus IV. The most interesting part of the volume is probably the history of the deeds of Andrea Braccio of Mentone, of the Bracchi family, and of the struggles against Sforza and the Lords of Rimini, forming a valuable contribution to the history of Italy under the Despots. At the end occurs the famous epigram of Michael Fernow against the Roman booksellers.

- 3005 [JOHANN SILBER, OF LYONS?] Guido de Baysio Bononiensis. Rosarium Decretum. Fragment containing chapters 45 to 84. Folios 38, printed in small GOTHIC LETTER, double columns of 73 lines. Folio, bound in half cloth. [LYONS: Johann Silber, circa 1490?].

- 3006 WENDELIN OF SPEIER, VENICE. FIRST PRESS. AMBROSIIUS DE SPIRA TARVISINUS. Folio a2 begins:—Incipit quadrigesimale de floribus sapiētie—per magistrum Ambrosiū spiera tarvisinū—etc. Printed in double columns, small GOTHIC LETTERS, 46 lines, without catchwords or pagination. Folios 16 + 481. (Wanting two leaves of preliminary table [one leaf is probably blank], and a portion of another leaf torn off; some leaves cut close to the top line by the binder.) 4to, vellum. VENICE: Wendelin of Speier, 1476.

- 3007 ——— PETRUS LOMBARDUS. Sententiarum. Printed in small GOTHIC LETTER, double columns of 41 lines, without catchwords or pagination, oak boards, with leather back, and clasps stamped with I.H.S. and scrollwork. VENICE: Wendelin of Speier, 1477.

INCUNABULA—Continued.

- 3008 WENDELIN OF WILA, THEOBALD SCHENEBECHER, AND JOHANN REINHARD, ROME. Consiliorum domini Pauli de castro. Printed in small round GOTHIC LETTER, double columns. 2 vols. folio, old oak boards, the back and half of the sides covered with stamped pigskin. From the Earl of Hopetoun collection. ROME: Wendelin, Schenebecher, and Reinhard, 1473.

* Early Roman Imprint, and fine copy. A few marginal notes. Paul de Castro was a famous 16th Century jurist, and this book is a commentary on the laws.

- 3009 NICOLAS WOLF, LYONS. Colophon reads:—Opus triniū a venerabili viro F. Johāne de bromyard—Castiga—per F. Symonē bertherij—expensis—Johānis Jenini als dyamantier. Printed in double columns, small GOTHIC LETTER. 8vo, vellum. (A few places wormed and damp stained.) [LYONS] Nicolai Wolff, alemani, 1500.

- 3010 BARTHOLOMEW ZANIS FROM PORTESIO, VENICE. PLUTARCHI. Vitæ illustrium virorum. Printed in ROMAN LETTER, single column; folio 1 having a cleverly executed woodcut of the combat between Theseus and the Centaur, the whole page surrounded by decorative border, white on a black ground. 2 vols. in 1. Folio, vellum, some margins written on. (Folios 1 + 145 + 144.) VENICE: Barth. Zanis, 1496.

- 3011 ULRICH ZEL, COLOGNE. FIRST PRESS. CARACCIOLUS DE LITIO (ROBERTUS). Folio 1 begins: Sacre theologie magistri necno sacri eloquij precolis celeberrimi fratris Roberti de Litio, etc. 360 folios (including preliminary blank leaf), printed in double columns, GOTHIC LETTER of 37 lines, without pagination, signatures or catchwords. Small folio, bound in full calf, gilt. COLOGNE: Ulrich Zel, 1473.

* A magnificent and rare specimen from the first Cologne press, in immaculate condition, with good margins, many of the leaves showing the original four "point holes." Splendid impression of the types, and rubricated throughout. Some of the original MS. signatures are apparent at the margin, showing that the quires were mostly quinions, with a few quaternions. Of interest, also, on account of the colophon containing both the name of Ulrich Zel and the date. Many of the books printed by him contain neither, and very few, perhaps at the utmost about half a dozen, have his name as printer.

Robertus Caracciolus was one of the Order of Minor Friars, and died about 20 years after the publication of this book. He was Bishop of Aquino in 1471, noted for his great eloquence, and for the humor (or, rather, what would to-day be characterized as burlesque) in which he attacked the laxity of morals and extravagance of living of the higher prelates. Many editions were printed of his sermons.

INCUNABULA—Continued.

- 3012 ULRICH ZEL. LEONARDUS DE UTINO. Folio 1 commences:—In festo ascensionis domini Sermo. Colophon reads:—Expliciūt Sermones aurei de sanctis per totū, annum qs cōpilavit magister Leonardus de Utino—Ad instantiam—co placentiā magnifice coitatis Utinensis—Mccccxli—etc. 244 folios, printed in GOTHIC LETTER, double columns of 36 lines, without catchwords, pagination, signatures, place of publication or name of printer. Wants the leaf of register at end. Capitals painted in red in bold characters. Very fine, clean copy with good margins. 4to, bound in old red morocco, richly tooled and gilt. [COLOGNE: Ulrich Zell] 1473

* EXCEEDINGLY RARE. This is only the second part, but the two parts are very rarely met with together.

The real date, 1473, has been carefully erased, a state in which copies are sometimes found, leading to much confusion in the minds of amateur bibliographers, the only date then appearing in the colophon being that of 1446, which the amateur carefully explains away by imagining it was a misprint for 1464. The original binder of this copy had adopted that latter date, but some later owner has neatly changed it again into 1446. Stamp of the Royal Library at The Hague on folio 1.

A choice specimen of early typography and of Ulrich Zell's press. It is believed by many authorities that William Caxton about this time was in Cologne and obtained some of his first practical ideas on printing from Ulrich Zell. If this be so, it is possible that Caxton may have worked on this very book.

- 3013 ——— S. AUGUSTINI epistola ad beautū Cyrilli—de magnificentiis Heronimi, 9 folios; S. Cyrilli—ad augustinū—de miraculis beati Heronimi, Epistola—Heronimi—ad Sūsanam lapsam, Epistola—Heronimi ad Elyodoꝛ, 55 folios; Eusebii epistola ad damasū—de morte—Heronimi, 47 folios. Three volumes in one, printed in GOTHIC LETTER, single columns of 27 lines, without catchwords, signatures, paginations, name of printer, place, or year. Small 4to, half roan. [COLOGNE: Ulrich Zell, circa 1473]

* These small opuscula of Zell's are very rare. This copy is in excellent, clean condition, with good margins, and rubricated throughout.

- 3014 ——— Folio 1 commences:—PROLOGUS CESARII CISTERCIENSIS MONACHII HEYSTERBACHO IN DIALOGŪ MIRACULORUM. Folio. Printed in GOTHIC LETTER, double columns of 35 lines, without pagination, signatures, catchwords, name of printer, year, or place. 308 folios. 13th Century. This "dialogum miraculorum" is a collection of mediæval legends and of historical facts. Many of these legends and tales have been adopted by later Italian and French Romancists as the bases of their stories. Some are of a very extraordinary character, resembling the tales in the Gesta Romanorum and similar books. This is the EDITIO PRINCEPS.

- * A most interesting manuscript of one of the most famous of the Persian writers. The Gulistan in some respects might be described as the Gesta Romanorum of the Persians, being moral precepts and rules of conduct pointed by anecdotes and stories. Early manuscripts of this are scarce.

* Melanchthon's copy, with his autograph on title and short marginal note on folio 19. The autograph has been run through with a pen by some later owner, but it is perfectly legible; also the autograph of Dr. Puhlmann, 1836, on the title. Some of the margins cropped close by the binder, injuring a letter or two in a few places.
- 3158 MELANCHTHON'S COPY OF HORACE. Horatii Carminum, Epodon, etc. 16mo. BASLE, 1524.
* On the title is written a note in German, signed by Dr. Puhlmann, that the marginal notes are in the handwriting of Melanchthon. These notes are numerous, and where some of the text has been torn away Melanchthon has supplied the deficient lines in his autograph. The copy is a little imperfect, and shows signs of much use, but is possibly the result of much handling by the great Reformer himself.

* THE RARE FIRST EDITION WITH THE FOURTH TITLE-PAGE. As is well known, the question of precedence of issues of the first edition of Paradise Lost is complicated with so many questions of variations of typography, composition, etc., that no absolute final agreement has ever been come to by bibliographers. The readings of this copy agree in most instances with those in the first issue of 1667.

This edition contains for the first time the seven preliminary leaves, containing the address of the printer to the reader (in five lines), the errata, etc.

THE TEXT AND THE EXCISIONS POINTED OUT. ONE LEAF OF THE LETTERPRESS IS MISSING, PROBABLY REMOVED BY SOUTHEY HIMSELF, TO BE OMITTED FROM HIS OWN VERSION. INSERTED IS A MS. NOTE STATING THAT THIS COPY WAS A GIFT FROM JOHN PAYNE COLLIER.

Palmerin of England was written by Don Luis de Hertado, and is ranked as one of the best of the Romances of Chivalry of the type of Amadis de Gaul. When Cervantes described the curé burning the romances of Don Quixote he expressly excepts Palmerin of England, declaring that it shall be put among the relics of antiquity for the excellence of its composition and adventures. Many English authors have praised it, and Keats classed it among his favorite books.

The translator, A. M. [Anthony Munday], has been somewhat undeservedly neglected as an early English writer, this neglect being founded on the fact of his lesser and literary hack work being the only ones practically obtainable. He died in 1663, but his writings date from the later years of the 16th Century. Kemp, in his "Nine Daies Wonders," refers to him as a Ballad Writer, and other contemporaries note his dramatic works. The play of "Sir John Oldcastle," once attributed to Shakespeare, and afterwards to Thomas Heywood, was partly written by him. It also appears, from statements made in his lifetime, that at some period in his career he had acted on the English Stage, and from this practical experience his dramatic works, if now extant, would be of great interest and value.

My life is—after the cousinship—that you will be less inclined to find fault with me, than to be amused at the eccentricity of a complaint about obscurity coming from me. with judicious contractions, might be rendered an interesting Drama on the stage." The handwriting resembles that of Bowles, and is not improbably his, for it is known that the first draft of "Osorio" was submitted to him before the fair copy was dispatched to Drury Lane." A note written and signed by Henry Nelson Coleridge on the title-page states that the manuscript is a "first rough draft of the Remorse," and that all the corrections, etc., are in the autograph of Samuel Taylor Coleridge. Were you wrecked on the Coast, I will answer for it, you would find seal and seal oil as good dainties as Beef steaks and Porter. . . . 3477 PEABODY (GEORGE)—Noted Philanthropist and Merchant). A. L. S. 1 p. 4to. London, 1843.

3478 POE (EDGAR ALLAN). A PORTION OF THE MANUSCRIPT OF "TAMERLANE," ENTIRELY IN THE POET'S AUTOGRAPH. Varying in a marked manner from the first printed edition that prima facie would point to this being the original draft of the poem. Written on both sides of 5 quarto leaves, the first page being numbered 9 and the last 20, with pages 11-12 lacking. Some later ink scribbles, of little importance, written here and there. The numbering of the cantos arranged differently from the printed version.

* Collating it with the first printed edition, the manuscript commences with the 7th line of Canto IV., and continues to the 22d line of Canto V. The following differences may be noted:

| First Printed Edition reads:        | Manuscript reads:      |
|-------------------------------------|------------------------|
| Canto IV., line 9, "the mix'd tone" | "and the tone"         |
| " V., " 13, "dare attempt"          | "now attempt"          |
| " " " 14, "The breathing beauty"    | "The more than beauty" |
| " " " 15, "my impassioned"          | "this impassioned"     |

The manuscript then commences again with the first line of Canto VIII., the variations being as follows:

| First Printed Edition reads:                                 | Manuscript reads:                         |
|--------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------|
| Canto VIII,Line 2, "Even such as from the accursed time" | "Such as I taught her from the time"      |
| " 7, "My frenzy to her bosom taught:                         | "There were no holier thoughts than thine |
| " 8, We still were young: no purer thought                   | I lov'd thee as an angel might            |
| " 9, Dwelt in a seraph's breast than thine;                  | With ray of the all living light          |
| " 10, For passionate love is still divine:                   | Which blazes upon Edis' shrine—           |
| " 11, I loved her as an angel might                          | It is not surely sin to name              |
| " 12, With ray of the all living light                       | With such as mine that mystic flame:      |
| " 13, Which blazes upon Edis' shrine.                        | I had no being but in thee—               |
| " 14, It is not surely sin to name,                          | The world, with all its train of bright   |
| " 15, With such as mine—that mystic flame,                   | And happy beauty (for to me               |
| " 16, I had no being but in thee!                            | All was an undefin'd delight),            |
| " 17, The world with all its train of bright                 | The world, its joy—its share of pain      |
| " 18, And happy beauty (for to me                            | Unheeded then—its bodied forms            |
| " 19, All was an undefined delight),                         | Of varied being which contain             |
| " 20, The world—its joy—its share of pain                    | The bodiless spirits of the storms."      |
| " 21, Which I felt not—its bodied forms                      |                                           |
| " 22, Of varied being, which contain                         |                                           |
| " 23, The bodiless spirits of the storms."                   |                                           |

[See illustration.]

The differences of construction are in these lines very marked, some of the expressions, as for instance, "For passionate love is still divine," being entirely wanting in the manuscript.

Other equally noteworthy differences occur throughout, another marked variation being after the 22d line of Canto XI., where the manuscript, though written as continuous—save for the paragraph breaks—jumps to the first line of Canto XV., THE CONCLUSION OF THE XITH AND THE WHOLE OF XII., XIII., XIV., BEING ENTIRELY OMITTED IN THIS FIRST DRAFT.

The manuscript ends at the 20th line of Canto XV. It is among the possibilities that the author ended with the canto completed here, where Tamerlane, after abandoning Ada in order to realize his ambitious hopes, boasts of the glory of Samarcand, "queen of the earth," ending with the line "Nothing have I with human hearts," the necessary bitter reflection on his deathbed, and completing the idea. The remaining two cantos may have been a later thought and written for the printed edition.

3479 POE (EDGAR ALLAN). MANUSCRIPT ENTIRELY IN HIS AUTOGRAPH OF HIS FUGITIVE POEM "THE VISIT OF THE DEAD."

* Written on two pages of the same paper as the preceding. Published in the First Printed Edition of Tamerlane as one of the Fugitive Pieces, with the title given above. The manuscript, however, bears the title "The Spirits of the Dead." Apparently also the first draft. The variations are as follow :

| First Printed Edition:                           | Manuscript reads:                           |
|--------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------|
| Line 2, "Alone of all on earth—unknown "         | "Mid dark thoughts of the grey tombstone "  |
| " 3, "The cause—but none are near to pry "       | " Not one of all the crowd to pry "         |
| " 5, " that solitude "                           | "thy solitude "                             |
| " 13, " their thrones in the dark heaven "       | "their high thrones in the Heaven "         |
| " 16, " To thy withering heart shall seem "      | " To thy weariness shall seem "             |
| " 20, " In the morning light afar "              | " With the dew-drop flies afar "            |
| " 21, " Will fly thee—and vanish "               | " Now are thoughts thou cans't not banish " |
| " 22, " But its thought thou cans't not banish " | " Now are visions ne'er to vanish "         |
| " 23, " the breath of God will be still "        | "From thy spirit shall they pass "          |
| " 24, " And the mist upon the hill "             | " No more, like dew-drop from the grass "   |
| " 25, " By that summer breeze unbroken "         | " The breeze—the breath of God—is still "   |
| " 26, " Shall charm thee as a token "            | " And the mist upon the hill "              |
| " 27, " And a symbol which shall be "            | " Shadowy—shadowy, yet unbroken "           |
| " 28, " Secrecy in thee."                        | " Is a symbol and a token "                 |
| ( Printed version ends here. )            | "(How it hangs upon the trees) "            |
|                                                  | " A mystery of mysteries."                  |

The differences are here very remarkable, the manuscript containing two lines more than the printed edition, and the construction being much altered in the latter part.

3480 ——— MANUSCRIPT, ENTIRELY IN HIS AUTOGRAPH, OF TWO OF HIS FUGITIVE POEMS, "DREAMS" AND "THE LAKE."

* This manuscript, which is written on four pages of the same paper as the preceding, is also apparently the first draft of the two poems. They were printed along with Tamerlane in the first edition of 1827.

The variations from the printed version of "Dreams" may be briefly summarized as follows :

| First Printed Edition :                            | Manuscript reads :                 |
|----------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------|
| Line 5, "the cold reality "                        | "the dull reality "                |
| " 6, "whose heart must be "                        | "whose heart shall be "            |
| " 7, "still, upon the lovely earth "               | "ever, on the chilly earth "       |
| " 14, "in dreams of living light "                 | "in dreamy fields of light "       |
| " 15, "And loveliness—have left myvery heart " | "And left unheeding my very heart" |

In line 27 of the original printed edition, modern editors have suggested that the word "but" has by some accident been omitted ; in this manuscript it is clearly written, thus confirming the surmise.

In "The Lake" there are the following variations :

|                                                     |                                   |
|-----------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------|
| Line 10, "In its stilly melody "                    | "In a stilly melody "             |
| " 11, "My infant spirit would awake "               | "My boyish spirit would awake "   |
| " 20, "To his dark imagining "                      | "To his lone imagining "          |
| " 21, "Whose wildering thought couldeven make " | "Whose solitary soul could make " |

3481 POE (EDGAR ALLAN). MANUSCRIPT, ENTIRELY IN HIS AUTOGRAPH, OF HIS POEMS "TO THE RIVER" AND "TO——."

* The latter of these appeared in the first edition of Tamerlane as the first of the Fugitive Pieces with simply the heading "To——." This manuscript has the additional heading "In an Album." Commencing with "I saw thee on the bridal day," the manuscript and printed version correspond, with the exception that the second verse is entirely omitted. That this was an oversight by the author is clear, as Poe has written in the margin "4 lines omitted see last page," which last page is, however, not here.

The other piece was printed in a later volume of poems, and in this manuscript has likewise the additional heading "In an Album."

The differences are as follow :

| Printed Edition :                     | Manuscript reads :          |
|---------------------------------------|-----------------------------|
| Line 2, "Of crystal wandering water " | "Of labyrinth-like water "  |
| " 8, Is printed without brackets.     | Is written within brackets. |
| " 10, "Her worshipper resembles "     | "My pretty self resembles " |
| " 11, "his heart "                    | "my heart "                 |
| " 12, "Her image deeply lies "        | "Her image lightly lies "   |
| " 13, "His heart "                    | "The heart "                |
| " 14, "Of her soul searching eyes "   | "The scrutiny of her eyes " |

Written on 2 pages of the same paper as the preceding, and also, no doubt, the first draft.

3482 ——— THE ORIGINAL MEMORANDA FOR THE PROSPECTUS OF HIS "LIVING WRITERS OF AMERICA," ENTIRELY IN HIS AUTOGRAPH. Written on four pages of folio paper, and on four pages of smaller size, with many alterations and erasures by the poet.

* The title as written by him on the first page is as follows: "The Living Writers of America. Some Honest Opinions about their Literary Merits, with Occasional Words of Personality. By Edgar A. Poe. With Notices of the Author by James Russell Lowell & P. P. Cooke."

A most interesting manuscript, much of it personal and about his literary work. He commences by referring to Godey's Lady's Book, and that he (the publisher?) was badgered into giving it up. Then follows a reference to English's attack, and proceeds, "Success induced me to extend the plan . . . discard petty animosities—it will be seen that where through petulance or neglect, or underestimate of the impression the papers were to make, I have done injustice, I have not scrupled to repair the wrong, even at the expense of consistency . . . Political sectional animosities . . . result a depreciation of Southern and Western talent, which upon the whole is greater, more vivid, fresher, than that of the North, less conventional, less conservative—want of centralisation gives birth to a peculiar cliquism whose separate penchants render it nearly impossible to get at the truth—Instance the Humanity clique—to which belong Emerson, Lowell, Hawthorne, Godwin, Fuller, Mrs. Child, Whittier—and who judge all literature in accordance with its hobby."

The whole manuscript is full of notes to the same effect on the prominent literary men of the time, with trenchant criticisms.

- 3483 POE (EDGAR ALLAN). A Manuscript of two leaves, of an early date, giving a copy of Poe's Dreams and of two other poems, the first evidently copied from the manuscript above. A note written on it states that they are unpublished poems of Poe from the manuscript.

- 3484 ——— Eureka: a Prose Poem. Fine copy in the original cloth. NEW YORK, 1848.

* POE'S OWN COPY, MARKED THROUGHOUT WITH PENCILLED ADDITIONS AND ALTERATIONS.

At one time in the possession of Rufus W. Griswold, who has written his name and the remark that it is Poe's private copy on the first end-paper.

"One of the most noteworthy additions that Poe has made is contained in a note on the last leaf, which reads as follows:

'NOTE.—The pain of the consideration that we shall lose our individual identity, ceases at once when we further reflect that the process, as above described, is, neither more nor less than that of the absorption by each individual intelligence, of all other intelligences (that is, of the Universe) into its own. That God may be all in all, each must become God.'"

Enclosed in handsome morocco solander case.

- 3485 ——— An Article on Poe's Addenda to his Eureka, from the Methodist Review for Jan., 1896. Containing extracts from a private unpublished letter of Poe, giving a short summary of his theory, and a "Prediction"; also the original manuscript of the article written by G. - 3521 WASHINGTON (GEORGE). Appraisement of Slaves sent to the Dismal Swamp, July the 4th, 1764. Written on almost the whole of a folio page entirely in the autograph of George Washington. The list contains names of the various owners of the slaves, among them being the name of Washington himself, and was no doubt connected with the plan of draining the Dismal Swamp which he, along with other prominent men, at that time was projecting.
- 3522 ——— Lease of Land in Frederick County, granted to Alexander Fryer, Dec., 1767. Written on two sides of a large folio sheet entirely in Washington's handwriting, and signed by him. Washington's name in full occurs twelve times in the body of the instrument. Signed also by witnesses. Broken in the folds, but nothing missing.
- 3523 ——— Autograph Letter Signed, 5 pp. folio, Camp at Cambridge, Aug. 29, 1775. (Somewhat worn at the folds and a few words missing) To Richard Henry Lee. Important letter, written while Washington was in command of the troops besieging Boston.

* "As we have now nearly completed our lines of defence, we have nothing more in my opinion to fear from the Enemy, providing we can keep our men to their duty and make them watchful and vigilant; but it is among the most difficult tasks I ever undertook in my life to induce the people to believe that there is or can be danger till the Bayonet is pushed at their breasts; not that it proceeds from any uncommon prowess, but rather from an unaccountable kind of stupidity in the lower class of these people, which believe me prevails but too generally among the officers of the Massachusetts part of the Army, who are nearly of the same kidney with the privates."

"There is no such thing as getting officers of this stamp to exert themselves in carrying orders into execution—to curry favour with the men (by whom they were chosen, and on whose smiles possibly they may think they may again rely) seems to be one of the principal objects of their attention."

Washington then proceeds to object to the principle of the Massachusetts government appointing the officers, stating that he has "made a pretty good stand" against the class of officers they have sent. Further on he points out the difficulties in occupying and holding "Point Alderton," stating that it would be easy for General Gage to attack it with his whole force, and calls Lee's attention to the "alarming" fact that the whole army has only 184 barrels of powder, and that it would not be prudent for him to take any measures which would bring on an engagement and consume the small quantity of ammunition. Washington also states that it is impossible for him to state his motives to every one, although it places him in a very unfavorable light with those who find little done and expect much. "Last Saturday night," he goes on, "we took possession of a spot within point blank shot of the enemy on Charlestown neck, worked incessantly the whole night with 1200 men, and threw up an intrenchment such as to bid defiance to their cannon." Some other details of the proceedings of the siege are also contained in the letter.

The first two pages of this important letter deal principally with Washington's dissatisfaction with the Massachusetts troops. Later, however, the General apologized handsomely, writing in another letter, "The deficiency of numbers, discipline, and stores, can only lead to one conclusion, that their spirit has exceeded their strength."

3524 WASHINGTON (GEORGE). Autograph Letter Signed. 7 pp. folio. New York, Aug. 19, 1776. To Lund Washington, the General's agent, and manager of his estates. Important letter, written only a few days before the Battle of Long Island.

"Very unexpectedly to me another revolving Monday is arrived before an attack upon this City, or a movement of the enemy—the reason of this is incomprehensible to me. True it is (from some late informations) they expect another arrival of about 5,000 Hessians; but then they have been stronger than the army under my Command; which with men, I expect, gain strength faster than theirs, as the Militia are beginning to come in fast, and have already augmented our numbers in this City and the Posts round about to about 23,000 men.

"There is something exceedingly misterious in the conduct of the Enemy. Lord Howe takes pains to throw out, upon every occasion that he is the Messenger of Peace—that he wants to accomodate matters—nay, has Insinuated that he thinks himself authorized to do it upon the terms mentioned in the last Petition to the King of G. Britain. But has the Nation got to that, that the King or his Ministers will openly dispense with Acts of Parliament—and if they durst attempt it, how is it to be accounted for that after running the Nation to some Millions of Pounds Sterls. to hire and Transport Foreigners, and before a blow is struck, they are willing to give the terms proposed by Congress . . . I say how is this to be accounted for but from their having received some disagreeable advices from Europe . . . We are now passed the Middle of August, and they are in possession of an Island only, which it never was in our power, or Intention to dispute their landing on."

Washington then narrates that the two ships (the Phœnix and another), which went up the river, narrowly escaped destruction by fire-ships, and have returned.

The rest of the letter is devoted to detailed instructions about the management of his estate, planting of trees, etc. He considers that Lund would have a good opportunity to send off his flour, now that Lord Dunmore and his squadron have returned to Staten Island. Cracked in the folds, but otherwise in good condition.

- 3525 WASHINGTON (GEORGE). Autograph Letter Signed, 10 pp. folio, Head-quarters, Middlebrook, May 5, 1779, to Benjamin Harrison, signer of the Declaration and Member of the Board of War. In fine condition, except that the letter has cracked at the folds and been neatly repaired.

* The letter commences by referring to some statements in a previous letter recommending certain measures, and reiterates their necessity, and that if longer delayed "I shall not scruple to add that our affairs are irretrievably lost." He also predicts that the result will be "the fate of our paper money and with it a general crash of all things." Washington then proceeds:

"The measures of Ministry are taken, and the whole strength and resources of the Kingdom will be exerted against it in this campaign; while we have been slumbering and sleeping, or disputing upon trifles contenting ourselves with laughing at the impotence of Great Britain . . . Accts. from London to the 9th. of March, have fixed me in the opinion that G. Britain will strain every nerve to distress us this campaign, but where or in what manner her principal forces will be employed I cannot determine . . . My own opinion of the matter is that, they will keep a respectable force at (New York), and push their operations vigorously to the Southward, where we are most vulnerable, and least able to afford succour . . . She may, circumstanced as we are, give a very unfavourable turn to that pleasing slumber, we have been in for the last eight months. . . . From present appearances I have not the smallest doubt but that we shall be hard pushed in every quarter. This campaign will be the grand and if unsuccessful, more than probable the last struggle of Great Britain . . . They are raising all the Indians from North to South which their arts and money can procure, and a powerful diversion they will make in this quarter with the aid they expect from Canada."

Washington then criticises the methods of calling out the Militia, condemning it, and proposes another scheme. He also writes about the treatment of the British prisoners, and then returns again to the operations and conduct of the war.

"I view General Philips in the light of a dangerous man—in his march to Charlotteville he was guilty of a very grave breach of military judgment, and of a procedure highly criminal; for instead of pursuing the route pointed out to him he went—" (Washington then describes the route).

The General then gives warning that deserters or prisoners must not be trusted, giving some interesting facts, and proceeds to relate the latest news of the operations against the Indians on the frontier. The letter is signed G. Washington in full, and a postscript is added giving some news of the sailing of a British expedition, presumably to Georgia, and stating what he has ordered in consequence, signed G. W.

- 3526 ——— Autograph Letter Signed, 2 pp. 4to, Mount Vernon, Feb. 5, 1788. With the superscription to Charles Carter, Esq., also in Washington's handwriting. Washington had apparently written to Lafayette asking him to procure some Irish wolf hounds, and the Marquis had enquired of an Irish land-owner about them. Washington, in this letter, gives a summary of all the information he had thus gathered, practically amounting to the fact that the breed was almost extinct.

- 3527 WASHINGTON (GEORGE). Autograph Letter Signed, 4 pp. 4to, Philadelphia, 16th March, 1795. To His Excellency Robert Brooke, Governor of Virginia.

* "Ever since the General Assembly of Virginia were pleased to submit to my disposal fifty shares in the Potomack, and one hundred in the James River company, it has been my anxious desire to appropriate them to an object, most worthy of public regard.

"It is with indescribable regret, that I have seen the youth of the United States migrating to foreign countries, in order to acquire the higher branches of erudition, and to obtain a knowledge of the sciences. Altho' it would be injustice to many, to pronounce the certainty of their imbibing maxims, not congenial with republicanism; it must nevertheless be admitted that a serious danger is encountered by sending abroad among other political systems those, who have not well learned the value of their own.

"The time is therefore come, when a plan of universal education ought to be adopted in the United States. Not only do the exigencies of public and private life demand it; but if it should ever be apprehended that prejudices would be entertained in one part of the Union against another; an efficacious remedy will be, to assemble the youth of every part under such circumstances, as will by the freedom of intercourse and collision of sentiment, give to their minds, the direction of truth, philanthropy, and mutual conciliation."

Washington then proceeds to state that he will give the Potomack shares towards the endowment of the proposed university in the Federal City, and the James River shares for a seminary to be erected as the Legislature may direct.

In remarkable condition, enclosed in morocco solander case, the letter paper having the water-mark of Washington's private paper.

To Colonel Timothy Bedel, in command of the New Hampshire regiment, directing him to march his force into Canada to aid in the siege of Quebec. Also directing him to take under his care the "Cognawaga Indians," and lead them with him. The letter ends: "These, Sir, are your instructions, to which I doubt not you will pay a proper attention that you may have a share in the Glory of expelling the instruments of Ministerial Tyranny from that fair Province."
- 3530 ——— Permit to allow William Lee to proceed from Massachusetts to Washington's headquarters. Signed (?) by John Avery, Secretary to the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. At the bottom is written in Washington's autograph, "The bearer Wm. Lee, Esq., a native of Virginia, was to my knowledge, sent years (since?) to England for his education; and returning to his estate in that Commonwealth with ample testimonials thereof to me, is at full liberty to pursue his journey. G. Washington, West Point, Oct. 20th, 1779."

Gage, Sir Wm. Howe, Sir Guy Carleton, Philip Schuyler, John Morgan, etc. No evidence appears as to who was the copyist, but possibly one of Washington's secretaries, as notes appear as to enclosures (and copies of them) which would apparently only be known to some one near the General's person. At some later period the volume passed into the possession of J. Jackson, who used the end pages for a commonplace book. The margins of some of the leaves damaged, injuring a few lines of the letters. Folio, vellum. Old book-label inside the cover of William Trickett, a Philadelphia bookseller.

Our Bay has been so infested with the Enemy's Privateers for some time, that the passage to the eastern shore is become very precarious and an almost total stop put to the Trade. The Privateers have been as high as the mouth of Potowmack, and have cut out several Vessels from the Harbours in the Bay. Their force is not very considerable, consisting of a fourteen and ten gun sloop, with several smaller vessels, but one would suppose the Navy Board thought otherwise by permitting our fleet (which has cost several hundred thousand pounds) to continue in York River.*"
- The letter also mentions his mother and "Nelly." ENDORSED IN THE HANDWRITING OF GEORGE WASHINGTON, "From Jno. Parke Custis, Esq., 12th., Feb. 1779."

- 3560 ——— A. L. S., 1 p. 4to, Bristol, 1786, to his sister, "In a few days I am to set out for Holland. I believe I am called to pay one more visit to our Friends on the Continent. - 3561 ——— Part of A. L. of John Wesley, with accompanying certificate of its authenticity. Mounted.

3562 WHITMAN (WALT). Walt Whitman's Pocket Note-Book, having many leaves blank, but a few containing a strange jumble of addresses and references, among them being a reminder of "merino socks at 25c.," an advertisement of a "beetle exterminator," a note on "press copies sent" (possibly of "Leaves of Grass"), etc. Some of the leaves have been torn out. Laid in loosely are two English envelopes addressed to Whitman, on which Whitman has written "Tennyson's letter," also a short sketch entitled "Old Mr. and Mrs. M.," a quarto leaf containing, apparently, notes for an essay on "Silence," and a scrap of paper containing some lines in Whitman's rugged metre, suggesting strongly lines in the "Leaves of Grass."

3563 ——— Twenty-two Leaves of Whitman's Original War Diary, commencing at page numbered 2 and ending with 24, some missing between. Written mostly on narrow folio leaves.

* Founded on personal letters to his friends and relatives, and memoranda made on the spot, the diary is full of pathos, narrating many of the sorrowful scenes he met with in the hospital and on the battlefield, interspersed with his own opinions on the war. Under the date April 10, 1864, he remarks: "After Fredericksburgh I felt discouraged myself, and doubted whether our rulers could carry on the war. But that has passed away. The war must be carried on. I would willingly go in the ranks myself if I thought it would profit more than as at present, and I don't know some times but I shall, as it is. . . . You don't know what a nature a fellow gets, not only after being a soldier a while, but after living in the sights and influences of the camps, the wounded, &c.—a nature he never experienced before. The Stars and Stripes, the tune of Yankee Doodle, and similar things, produce such an effect on a fellow as never before. I have seen them bring tears on some men's cheeks, and others turn pale with emotion. I have a little flag (it belonged to one of our cavalry regiments) presented by one of the wounded—it was taken by the secesh in a fight and rescued by our men in a bloody skirmish following. It cost three men's lives to get back that four by three flag—to tear it from the breast of a dead rebel. . . . The man that secured it was very badly wounded, and they let him keep it. I was with him a good deal—he wanted to give me a keepsake, he said—he didn't expect to live—so he gave me that flag. The best of it all is, there isn't a regiment, cavalry or infantry, that wouldn't do the like on like occasion."

The leaves with Whitman's erasures and alterations, some of them pasted on other leaves in his usual manner.

The light on her bright eyes to me
Seem'd to become a guiding star
Too well that I should let it be
Of light in the dark wild air.

Life 16 <sup>alone</sup> Of light in
There, in that hour, a thought came
To my mind it had not known before
To leave her while we both were young
To follow my high fate among
The strife of nations, & redeem
The idle words which, as a dream,
Now sounded to her heedless ear—
I need no doubt, I knew no fear
Of peril in my wild career—
To gain an empire & throw down
Or smother down a queen's crown
The undying hope which now oppress'd
Of spirit never to be at rest.

Extract from the Will of Edmond de Goncourt:

(Trans.)

"My wish is that my Drawings, my Prints, my Curiosities, my Books—in a word these things of art which have been the joy of my life—shall not be consigned to the cold tomb of a museum, and subjected to the stupid glance of the careless passer-by; but I require that they shall all be dispersed under the hammer of the Auctioneer, so that the pleasure which the acquiring of each one of them has given me shall be given again, in each case, to some inheritor of my own tastes."
